NARRATIVE OF OUR SPECIAL CORRESPONDENT.

TIMES OFFICE,
Wednesday, 10 o'clock A. M.

A special correspondent from Washington to the TIMES arrived at our office at 3½ o'clock this morning, bringing news from the Capital up to yesterday (Tuesday) morning, 7½ o'clock, at which hour he left that city. Our messenger came through Baltimore, where he spent an hour or two, and by private conveyance to Havre de Grace, Maryland, and the aid of a fisherman's skiff to cross the Susquehannah, he reached Perryville, on the east bank of that stream, in time to take the evening train for Philadelphia. We are enabled, through this means, to lay before our readers a good deal of valuable and highly interesting intelligence.

Baltimore was crowded with people from the country, and there was much excitement, but no violence. Martial law prevails; suspected strangers are overhauled; the military throng the streets in small squads; the armories are filled with soldiers; the Maryland colors and the flag of the Southern Confederacy totally exclude the Stars and Stripes, and on every hand the strictest vigilance is exercised to guard against a surprise from any quarter, as well as to intercept bearers of dispatches for the Government.

During the hour and a half spent there by our correspondent, he was unable to hear anything confirming the statement of the Baltimore American, that Gov. Hicks would to-day lead Maryland troops to drive out the Seventh (New-York) Regiment and Gen. Butler's Massachusetts men, who had landed at Annapolis. Our correspondent says:

The New-York Seventh arrived safely at Annapolis on Monday morning, on board their steamer, and were joined there by Gen. BUTLER with his Massachusetts men, who came around from Perrysville on the Susquehannah River, having seized the railroad steam ferry-boat Maryland at that place for transportation purposes. This boat is the one in use on the Philadelphia, Wilmington and Baltimore Railroad,—very strong, and capable of carrying twenty-four loaded freight cars on its upper deck.

The force thus concentrated at Annapolis is understood to number about twenty-five hundred men. The Seventh landed safely at the Naval School grounds, and were amply prepared to resist and resent any aggression towards them.

The troops were detained at Annapolis, it is believed, only for want of means of transportation for their baggage. I was told in the cars yesterday (Tuesday) morning, at the Annapolis Junction, by a Maryland Secessionist, that the Maryland was aground off Annapolis, which, perhaps, accounts for their not attempting to reach Washington viâ the Potomac. The more probable story is, that they were detained for want of transportation overland, and that they were ordered to open the road to the Capital in that direction, and not to leave it unguarded so that the Rebels can take possession of it to prevent the landing of further reinforcements. I am the more inclined to think this, because Mr. SEWARD's letter, given below, assumes that the route overland viâ Annapolis has finally been decided upon by the Lieutenant-General as the one to be generally employed, notwithstanding the following order, issued several days ago, which I have not seen yet in any New-York paper:

GENERAL ORDERS—No. 3.

HEAD-QUARTERS OF THE ARMY,
WASHINGTON, April 19, 1861.

The Military Department of Washington is extended so as to include, in addition to the District of Columbia and Maryland, the States of Delaware and Pennsylvania, and will be commanded by Major-Gen. PATTERSON, belonging to the volunteers of the latter State.

The Major-General will, as fast as they are mustered into service, post the volunteers of Pennsylvania all along the railroad from Wilmington, Del., to Washington City, in sufficient numbers and in such proximity as may give a reasonable protection to the lines of parallel wires, to the road, its rails, bridges, cars and stations.

WINFIELD SCOTT.

By command:
E. D. TOWNSEND, Assistant Adjutant General.

From another and confidential source, which I consider entirely reliable, I learn that on Monday the New-York Seventh made some arrangements to obviate the difficulty in regard to baggage transportation, and I have good reason to believe that this gallant corps is now safe in Washington, having marched over there from Annapolis during Monday night.

The road to Washington from Annapolis, viâ the Patuxent, is little over twenty miles in length, but it is sandy, and for that reason hard traveling. The information leading me to the belief that the Seventh accomplished the march on Monday night, was given me yesterday morning by a highly respectable Marylander, who said his advices were positive and reliable; and it only confirmed what I learned from a semi-official source, (before leaving Washington,) as to the purposes of the Seventh. New-York may rest easy in regard to her pet Regiment.

It is true that the Marylanders threatened to harass their passage by a guerrilla warfare along the route, but a taste of the Seventh's Artillery, charged with grape, would speedily dispel any ambition of the traitors for distinction in that direction. It is scarcely possible that any organized force could have gone from Baltimore to obstruct their passage, and the population in the neighborhood of Annapolis is sparce and wretchedly poor.

The statement that the Railroad track from Annapolis to the Washington junction has been torn up, is erroneous. The cars are running; but the entire rolling stock of the concern would require a week's time to transport the New-York and Massachusetts troops now there.

Gen. BUTLER had taken the school-ship Constitution from the Naval School dock, and removed her beyond reach of assault from the shore. Among the rumors afloat, is one that the baggage and part of the troops would be taken on board the Constitution, and towed up to Washington.

The most intense anxiety to hear from the Seventh prevailed at Washington—everybody feeling that its arrival would add immensely to the capabilities of the Capital for defence from anticipated invasion. "Has the Seventh come?" "Where is the Seventh?" "When will the Seventh be here?" are the queries most frequently heard during several days past.

The excitement at the Capital has been very great since the riot at Baltimore, and the cutting off of all communication by mail and telegraph. The people generally, have been greatly alarmed, fearing the silence would prove to be ominous, and that each successive hour might bring in a horde of invaders, both from Maryland and Virginia.

Everybody who could get away has left town; and if the usual railroad routes were open, thousands more would follow. The hotels are nearly deserted, and some of them talk of closing.

The number of men under arms in the city is from four to five thousand, of whom only a few hundred are regulars. While a portion of the District Militia is undoubtedly composed of true men, there is great reason to fear that many of them are utterly unreliable in the event of the secession of Maryland.

The public buildings have all been prepared for barricading. The Capitol is guarded by the Massachusetts troops, who came through Baltimore, and a body of Pennsylvanians, who have erected barricades of barrels of cement, the iron-work designed for the new dome, and various other articles of building material.

At the Treasury Department, barricades of four-inch plank have been provided for the lower windows, ready to be put up at the first alarm. Sand-bag barricades for the long and splendid portico of this building are also prepared. The Treasury Department, with the force of regulars and volunteers which occupy it at night, could doubtless be maintained for a week against any invading force likely to be precipitated upon the city.

I should say here that good citizens both of Maryland and Virginia are positive in protestations that there is not the slightest design on the part of those States to invade the Federal Capital. I do not doubt that they fully believe this; but they are not responsible for, nor probably advised of, the purposes of JEFF. DAVIS and other Disunionist leaders.

Gen. BEAUREGARD is reported to have arrived at Richmond on Monday morning, and was believed to be reconnoitering in the neighborhood of Washington the same night.

Up to Tuesday morning there was no evidence that any troops had taken possession of the heights of Virginia at Arlington, opposite Georgetown. A rumor had announced the encampment there of of 5,000 men under Col. R. E. LEE, late of the U. S. A.

Little apprehension is entertained that the Secessionists can do any harm to the city by bombardment from Arlington, even should they attempt it. The distance is too great. They might, however, destroy Georgetown.

Several delegations of citizens of Maryland waited upon President LINCOLN on Monday, to endeavor to procure some countermand of the order for troops to march to Washington. One delegation of thirty, from five "Young Men's Christian Associations" of Baltimore, had a prolonged interview, but made no impression upon him. They profess to have been disgusted with his familiarity and want of dignity. The President told them that he must have the troops—and that as it was indispensable that they should come through Maryland,come that way they must.

On Monday Gov. HICKS presented to the President a communication again urging the withdrawal of troops from Maryland, a cessation of hostilities, and a reference of the national dispute to the arbitrament of Lord LYONS. To this the Secretary of State replied in the following able and eloquent terms:

DEPARTMENT OF STATE, April 22, 1861.

His Excellency Thos. H. Hicks, Governor of Maryland:

SIR: I have had the honor to receive your communication of this morning, in which you inform me that you have felt it to be your duty to advise the President of the United States to order elsewhere the trooops then off Annapolis, and also that no more may be sent through Maryland; and that you have further suggested that Lord LYONS be requested to act as mediator between the contending parties in our country, to prevent the effusion of blood.

The President directs me to acknowledge the receipt of that communication, and to assure you that he has weighed the counsels which it contains with the respect which he habitually cherishes for the Chief Magistrates of the several States, and especially for yourself. He regrets, as deeply as any magistrate or citizen of the country can, that demonstrations against the safety of the United States, with very extensive preparations for the effusion of blood, have made it his duty to call out the force to which you allude.

The force now sought to be brought through Maryland is intended for nothing but the defence of this Capital. The President has necessarily confided the choice of the national highway, which that force shall take in coming to this city, to the Lieutenant-General commanding the Army of the United States, who, like his only predecessor, is not less distinguished for his humanity, than for his loyalty, patriotism, and distinguished public service.

The President instructs me to add that the national highway thus selected by the Lieutenant-General has been chosen by him, upon consultation with prominent magistrates and citizens of Maryland, as the one which, while a route is absolutely necessary, is furthest removed from the populous cities of the State, and with the expectation that it would, therefore, be the least objectionable one.

The President cannot but remember that there has been a time in the history of our country when a General of the American Union, with forces designed for the defence of its Capital, was not unwelcome anywhere in the State of Maryland, and certainly not at Annapolis, then, as now, the Capital of that patriotic State, and then, also, one of the Capitals of the Union.

If eighty years could have obliterated all the other noble sentiments of that age in Maryland, the President would be hopeful, nevertheless, that there is one that would forever remain there and everywhere. That sentiment is that no domestic contention whatever, that may arise among the parties of this Republic, ought in any case to be referred to any foreign arbitrament, least of all to the arbitrament of an European monarchy.

I have the honor to be, with distinguished consideration, your Excellency's most obedient servant,

WILLIAM H. SEWARD.

Another set of Commissioners from Maryland and Virginia waited upon the President, and proposed an armistice, but obtained no satisfaction.

A rumor having reached Virginia to the effect that Lieut.-Gen. SCOTT was about to resign his commission as General-in-Chief of the United States Army, Judge ROBINSON, an old personal friend and classmate of his, came to Washington, on Sunday, from Richmond, to offer him a commission as Commander-in-Chief of the forces of the "Confederate States." On learning the purport of Judge R.'s errand, Gen. SCOTT interrupted him with a declaration that if he went any further in in making such a proposition to him, he (Judge R.) would not be permitted to get back to Richmond; adding, that having sworn to support the Constitution of the United States, he realized all the honorable obligations of that oath, and should of course observe them.

I have not seen any publication yet in New-York of the names of the men of the Massachusetts Regiment who were wounded in Baltimore, but who proceeded to Washington with their comrades. The seriously injured were:

JOHN FORTIER, wounded in the head by a stone.
GEO. W. SHOREY, wounded in the breast.
JAMES WINN, stabbed in the hand.
D. GINGRESS, ball through the arm.
GEORGE ALEXANDER.
ALONZO JAY, two fingers shot off.
WM. H. LAWSON, jaw broken.
VICTOR GINGROSS, shot in the arm.
HENRY DYKE, shot through the leg.

The following were slightly wounded:

Daniel Brown,
D. S. Mudge,
Wm. G. Wittington,
John F. Sweet,
L. L. Craig,
Hugh Mehun,
Sidley Collins,
Daniel A. Hain,
Stephen Flanders,
Wm. G. Butterfield,
S. S. Johnson,
J. S. Rowe,
C. H. Chandler,
James Whitaker,
Charles Stinson,
Edward C. Heath,
Joseph W. Pernel.

The injured men were all well cared for at the Washington Infirmary, and are getting along finely.

The Regiment has paraded two or three times in Washington, attracting marked attention. They are much mortified at the loss of their Band, and tried hard to get their commander to let them form in Baltimore, after they reached the Washington dépôt, and countermarch through the city, despite the mob; but the Colonel replied that his orders were to bring them to Washington, and they could go nowhere else. When the troops were assailed by the mob the former were embarrassed in firing upon them, by the fact that there were Union men mingled in the crowd with the rioters, endeavoring to quiet them. Except for this fact, the loss of life would have been many times greater than it was.

Conversing with Baltimoreans yesterday, they were compelled to admit that the trouble of Saturday originated with the mob, who were the aggressors, the troops having passed along quietly, without the slightest offensive demonstration on their own part.

Governor HICKS has issued his proclamation for a special session of the Legislature, to meet on Friday next, notwithstanding the Constitution requires at least ten days' notice of an extra session.

There is scarcely a doubt that the Legislature will pass an unconditional act of secession by Saturday of the present week.

The people of Baltimore are evidently greatly depressed by forebodings of the terrible retribution in store for them; nevertheless they are arming as rapidly as they can obtain the arms, and declare that they will rather die than retire from the false attitude which they have assumed.

In the rural districts of Maryland which we passed through on our way to Havre de Grace, we found the people very anxious and gloomy—confident in opinion that "the North is coming down to whip us out," and anticipating absolute ruin as a consequence.

East of the Susquehannah we found the Union sentiment very strong. At Elkton, Cecil County, Md., a County Convention was yesterday held, at which the delegates declared themselves unanimously for the Union, in all emergencies, and protested that if Maryland secedes, Cecil County will appeal to the Federal Government for protection.

No steamers are allowed to leave Baltimore on any pretext. The authorities seem to be possessed with the idea, that by such trivial obstacles as these, they can repress the torrent of Northern humanity now pouring towards Washington for its defence. Their efforts seem to be specially directed to this point.

In furtherance of their plans, the secession authorities yesterday ordered Major General TILGMAN, Commander of the Militia of the Eastern Shore, to take possession of the Chesapeake and Delaware Canal. This, doubtless, looks to the destruction of that work as a means of transit for troops. The Union men of Cecil County were endeavoring last night to effect measures to protect the Canal.

We found sixteen hundred Pennsylvania volunteers at Perryville, and five good-sized propellers of the Ericsson line, with steam up, ready to start with them. Among these transports were the Weldon, John S. Shriver, Henry L. Gore and Richard Willing.

Several hundred men left Perryville by steamer yesterday,—destined, it was supposed, for Annapolis.

The New-Orleans Picayune of the 17th inst., received at Washington, has the following interesting news from Pensacola:

"We learn from Major-Gen. CLARKE, of the regular army of the State of Mississippi, who arrived here this morning from Pensacola, viâ Mobile, that no change had taken place in the military statu quo of Pensacola. Fort Pickens had been reinforced by all the men that could be spared from the ships of war composing the fleet off Pensacola. It was not expected, however, that any attack would be made for the next ten days. The troops were all in fine condition, and anxious for the battle to commence.

LATER.—A gentleman who left Warrington (the locality of the Navy-yard, about eight miles from Pensacola,) where he has been residing, arrived in this morning by way of Mobile.

We learn from the same source that the report that Gen. BRAGG was constructing works on Santa Rosa Island was erroneous. On the contrary, the United States troops were busily engaged in doing so, and at the time our informant left, had extended the works to a point nearly opposite Warrington."

The last paragraph discloses the destination of the Atlantic, with Capt. MEIGGS, his sappers and miners, carpenters and light battery.

On Saturday last, the President, after reëxamination of the case, decided that the attitude assumed by Virginia renders no change in his policy necessary. It is understood, if Virginia remains neutral, no more troops will be called out. If she proceeds to hostile acts, the recent requisition will be doubled immediately.

DISPATCH TO THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.

WASHINGTON, Sunday night, April 21.

One of the river boats, the George Page, was employed by the Virginians last night on secret service, some say for the transportation of troops and munitions of war.

Several prominent Secessionists from Virginia yesterday paid a hurried visit to Washington.

The Government has received a message from the Governor of Tennessee, in reply to the demand for a quota of troops from that State. He emphatically says he will not comply, but would rather furnish 50,000 men against the North.

Troops from the North were all day expected to arrive here. Much solicitude is expressed concerning them, but it is generally believed that they will be successful in their journey.

Whatever truth there may be in the report of a concentration of troops about twelve miles from Washington, or six from Alexandria, it is certain that the Secessionists are earnestly at work; but there is no public knowledge of their plans and purposes.

THE LATEST NEWS FROM WASHINGTON.

HARRISBURGH, Wednesday, April 24.

An intelligent New-York merchant has arrived, viâ Chambersburgh, having left Washington at 3 o'clock P. M., yesterday. He thinks that there are more than 10,000 men in Washington, and provisions are becoming scarce. The Government is supplying the flour, seized at Georgetown on Sunday, to families at $8 per bbl. Military officers informed him that but little over 2,000 men are lying near Alexandria, and that not more than half of them were armed. Gen. BEAUREGARD, it is known by the Government, would be in Richmond on Tuesday.

The Seventh New-York Regiment is known to be at Annapolis; Baltimore had sent troops to intercept their march between Annapolis and the Washington junction. Gen. SCOTT's pickets are gradually extending toward Annapolis junction from Washington. Gen. SCOTT will assist them if attacked, at all hazards. The Eighth Massachusetts Regiment will force their way up the Potomac, if they cannot return to Annapolis.

All families who can get away are leaving as soon as possible. The Avenue is almost deserted; on Tuesday sixteen strangers dined at 2 P. M. at the National, and nine at Brown's Hotel.

Two Pennsylvania Regiments have reached Chambersburgh and encamped there.

A part of the ten thousand arms shipped hither from the Springfield Arsenal, have arrived here, and at last the troops are ready to march.

THE SEVENTH REGIMENT.

Authentic and Important Information—The Regiment Still at Annapolis—Letters from Members—The Route to Washington Menaced.

The Editor of the TIMES has had an interview with a member of the Detective Police force, who went with the Seventh Regiment, and returned yesterday afternoon. He left Annapolis at 4 o'clock Tuesday, P. M.

The Seventh Regiment is still at Annapolis. It will not move for Washington until it is strong enough to force a passage, as resistance from 12,000 to 15,000 is expected.

The Seventh reached Annapolis on the steamer Boston on Sunday forenoon. The Maryland, with the Eighth Massachusetts Regiment, was aground off that place, and the Boston tried to get her off.

Finding this impracticable, the Seventh Regiment landed and took possession of the grounds of the Naval School. Part of the Maryland's men went with them, and the Maryland being thus lightened, all the troops were landed.

No opposition whatever was offered to the landing.

The railroad track is destroyed for about five miles each way out of Annapolis, and a bridge about half way to Washington junction has also been broken down.

It was stated and believed that the rebels were collected in the vicinity of the road to the number of 12,000 or 15,000. Gen. BUTLER, of Massachusetts, who commands all the forces at Annapolis, did not deem it prudent to move forward until they had been reinforced.

By to-day it was believed that at least 6,000 troops would be there. Gen. BUTLER declared that he should go to Washington, no matter what obstacles were in the way.

The distance from Annapolis to Washington is thirty miles. It would be at least two hard days' march for raw troops. The weather is very warm.

Provisions had arrived, and eight boats seized at Annapolis had been pressed into the service of transporting them to Washington. When the Seventh formed on the School-grounds the Band played, and large numbers of the people came, by permission, to see them. They were vehement in their denunciations, and said they were prepared for resistance.

This intelligence is perfectly authentic and reliable. Our informant was introduced to us by President BOWEN, of the Police Commission, who guaranteed the perfect truth of the statement.

It was not known whether Gen. BUTLER would march the troops to Washington, or repair the bridge to go by railroad.

The route from New-York to Annapolis is open, and guarded the whole distance.

From Havre de Grace to Washington it is impossible to go, except by forcing a passage.

Armed men guard the telegraph wires from Philadelphia to Havre de Grace, and the landing there is protected by troops.

THE LANDING OF THE SEVENTH.

We learn from reliable authority that the Seventh Regiment landed on Sunday morning at Annapolis at the same time with the Massachusetts Regiment.

About two thousand rebels were collected partly armed, and having howitzers to oppose their landing.

The regiment formed in, connected with the Massachusetts regiment, and marched straight through the opposing force. They were not molested!

They started on the march for Washington, with flying colors, and in great spirits.

A LETTER FROM A MEMBER.

To the Editor of the New-York Times:

OFF ANNAPOLIS, ON BOARD RIVER
STEAMER "BOSTON," Monday, A. M.

Finding the rails torn up between Philadelphia and Baltimore we embarked on this steamer on Saturday afternoon. We steamed all Sunday for the Potomac with the intention of forcing our way up the river; spoke several vessels, and about 4 P. M. bore up for Annapolis. We arrived there early this morning. We are about to land and march to Washington by force if necessary. We expect to fight.

LATER—We are about to storm Annapolis. Good bye.

UNITED STATES FRIGATE CONSTITUTION,
CHESAPEAKE BAY, Monday, 8¾ A. M.

Annapolis is reported to be in the hands of the mob We are kept in ignorance of our future movements. It is rumored that we are to camp on the opposite shore to the town, repair the railroads and go to Washington. The regiment is panting for decisive measures. The greatest pluck and enthusiasm I ever saw prevails. We have gone through great hardships.

LETTER FROM ANOTHER MEMBER

TROOP-SHIP BOSTON, OFF ANNAPOLIS,
Monday, April 22, 1861.

We left Philadelphia on Saturday at 4 P. M., the rails being torn up so that we could not go through to Baltimore. We are now going aboard a United States brig to make a landing, and, if need be, to fight our way to Washington.

The Boston Regiment are lying here on board the ferry boat Massachusetts, and will go with us. All are well and in good spirits, and we will give a good account of ourselves. The secession men have everything on the Potomac, and it is reported to us that Washington is in their hands. We are going there, at all events, or we will be heard of no more.

Tell the Union boys to come along in strength; there is work to do, and it must be done at once.

Thank God, this Regiment is a unit, and will do its duty.

ANOTHER LETTER FROM THE SEVENTH

LITTLE TO EAT AND LESS TO DRINK—CAPTURE OF A SECESSION CREW—ANNAPOLIS INVESTED—RAW PORK AND DUBIOUS COFFEE FOR A SHORT TIME—THE BOYS IN HIGH SPIRITS.

The following are extracts from a letter written by Private C. H. L., of Company A, Seventh Regiment, to CHARLES H. DOWNING, Esq., of this City, and which we have been permitted to make public for the benefit of the friends of the Regiment:

ANNAPOLIS, Tuesday, April 23, 1861.

Upon reaching Annapolis, we learned that the Massachusetts Regiment, upon their arrival, had found the man-of-war Constitution in the hands of the rebels, who were fitting her out. They captured her, taking thirty of the rebels prisoners. Their steamer took the Constitution in tow, put one hundred and fifty men on board of her and started down the river. They got but a short distance, however, when they ran aground, and there they stuck all day Sunday and Sunday night. They had raw pork to eat and nothing to drink.

When we (the Seventh) arrived we found them in a terrible condition—nothing to drink, and about two hundred men on a steamer not larger than a ferry-boat. Col. LEFFERTS put off to them in a small boat and remained some time.

We learned that batteries had been erected up the Potomac, and that it would be impossible for us to go on to Washington. We tried to get the other steamer off, but could not do so. We ran out of water and nearly out of provisions. We were allowed boiled potatoes, a small piece of meat, one cracker and a half a cup full of something they called coffee, innocent of sugar or milk. We did not get landed until Monday night, about 6 o'clock.

Annapolis is a small place of only 2,000 inhabitants, although the capital of the State. There is a Naval School here, one of the finest places of the kind I ever saw. Here we got plenty to drink but little to eat.

Last night the rebels surrounded the walls of the school, which occupies about five acres of ground. We are quartered in the barracks, with ill substitutes for beds; but the weather is fortunately warm and pleasant.

We have several sick men under Surgeon DALTON's care.

We have no idea when we shall go to Washington. We are 40 miles from there. The railroad track is torn up. We intend to march the forty miles, or lay the track as we go along, and run the train ourselves. The Massachusetts troops have a number of blacksmiths with them, and I believe that is what they intend to do—sending some men ahead to lay the track for our own train.

We expect the Baltic soon, with the Twelfth, Seventy first and Sixth Regiments.

There is no mail from this point, and we are obliged to depend upon vessels running to Philadelphia or New-York.

C. H. L., Co. A.

AN ARRIVAL FROM ANNAPOLIS.

PHILADELPHIA, Wednesday, April 24.

A member of the Seventh Regiment, of New-York, arrived here this evening, having in charge four sick comrades. He left Annapolis Tuesday afternoon, at 3 o'clock, and thinks that it was impossible for them to reach Washington to-day.

The Massachusetts Regiment reached Annapolis on Sunday, and found the United States ship Constitution occupied by the Secessionists, they being engaged in converting her into a battery. The Secessionists were driven out of the ship and she was towed out into the stream by the Maryland, but after doing so she grounded.

Some guns were hoisted out of the Constitution and then she floated off, but the Maryland then grounded and was fast when the Seventh Regiment arrived, and remained so when our informant left.

Both regiments—the Massachusetts and New York Seventh—had suffered much for the want of provisions and water.

DISPATCH FROM ANNAPOLIS.

BOSTON, Wednesday, April 24.

The Boston Journal has the following dispatch:

ANNAPOLIS, Md., April 23.

There are 1,500 troops here, including the Massachusetts Eighth and the New-York Seventh Regiments. More are coming. We are all well. There is no force here to oppose us, and everything is lively. The troops are in fine spirits. We have the frigate Constitution moored safety at the mouth of the harbor, with a competent force on board.

THE SEVENTH IN WASHINGTON.

OFFICIAL REPORTS OF OPERATIONS AT ANNAPOLIS.

BOSTON, Wednesday, April 24.

The Executive Department furnishes the following abstract of the operations of the Massachusetts troops, under the command of Brig.-Gen. BUTLER:

On Saturday, the 13th inst, Capts. DEVEREUX and BRIGGS were detailed with their companies to proceed from Philadelphia to the crossing of the Susquehanna River, at Havre de Grace, and occupy the ferry, which was done without opposition; the remainder of the troops having been advanced during the day. At 6 o'clock P. M. the whole body embarked with Gen. BUTLER upon a steamer there directly for Annapolis, and arrived off the Capital of Maryland at a late hour of the night to anticipate the treasonable intentions of an organization in the vicinity, which had formed a plot to seize the United States frigate Constitution, which lay moored at the wharf of the Naval Academy.

Capt. DEVEREUX, with his Company, was ordered to take possession of her, which was promptly done, and she was towed several miles out from the town. On Sunday morning, the 21st, the steamer grounded, and the troops were unable to effect a landing until the morning of Monday. They were joined during the interval by the Seventh (New-York) Regiment. Some evil-disposed people upon the shore made propositions at this time for erecting a battery to command the steamer, but were prevented from completing their work.

On Monday, the 22d, the troops disembarked, took complete and peaceful possession of the town, pushed forward parties in advance along the line of the railroad leading towards Washington, and siezed and replaced the rails which had been torn from the tracks. They continued at the same labor yesterday, (Tuesday, the 23d,) and last evening were eagerly awaiting the arrival of the Fifth (Massachusetts) Regiment, with its accompanying artillery battery and rifle battalion, upon the arrival of which, together with the New-York Regiments which departed from Annapolis on Sunday and Monday, they would be fully able to open and maintain communication between Annapolis and Washington.

The latest intelligence which has been received from them is, that they were on their march across the country to Washington, and the Commander-in-Chief does not doubt that before this time they have reached the National Capital. In the meanwhile Havre de Grace has been occupied by a Pennsylvania regiment, and large bodies of troops are being concentrated there from Harrisburgh. Steamers for their transportation have been sent around the Capes up the Chesapeake Bay from Philadelphia, and will doubtless commence to-day to convey them to Annapolis. The troops are in excellent health and spirits, and only one man in the whole Eighth Regiment is reported as being sick.

Gen. BUTLER telegraphs that the troops of Massachusetts have done good service and are worthy of all praise.

Major AIMES, of the staff of Major-General ANDREWS, who is stationed at Philadelphia, in charge of arrangements for the transportation of subsistence for our troops, has been sent forward to Annapolis, and communicated personally with Gen. BUTLER there, and has now returned to Philadelphia to make provision for their welfare.

In contradiction of the rumors that the Commonwealth was short of firearms, the Governor officially states that he is at any moment prepared to arm 5,000 troops with the best rifles and sabre bayonets, whenever they shall be called into the field for active service.

The frigate Niagara has been ordered to repair to New-York. No sickness occurred on her long passage, and her officers and men return in good health.

BEARER OF DISPATCHES FROM THE SEVENTH.

NORTHEAST, Wednesday, April 24.

Officer MORTIMER THOMPSON, of the New-York Seventh Regiment, passed here to night, on his way to New York, bearing dispatches of the greatest importance. He crossed Chesapeake Bay last night in an open boat

THE BRIDGES BETWEEN ANNAPOLIS AND WASHINGTON.

The transport Kill Van Kull left yesterday afternoon for Annapolis with Maj. JAS. S. WADSWORTH and Mr. WM CUSHING, engineer, to repair the bridges destroyed between that place and Washington. A force of men and horses, sufficient to accomplish the work, went with them.

AFFAIRS IN MARYLAND.

MARTIAL LAW ENFORCED IN BALTIMORE.

HAVRE DE GRACE, Tuesday, April 23.

A passenger from Baltimore at 11 o'clock this morning, says that he heard nothig about Pensacola when he left. The city was quiet.

Martial law was enforced, and the troops arriving from the country had been sent back to hold themselves in readiness, there being sufficient force in the city.

HAVRE DE GRACE, Tuesday, April 23—9 o'clock.

A gentleman just from Washington, at 7 o'clock this morning, viâ Baltimore 1 o'clock this afternoon, reports the affairs of both cities as statu quo.

A system of martial law exists in both cities, but it was not officially proclaimed.

A large Union Meeting was held at Elkton, Md., to-day. Eight hundred delegates were present. A resolution was passed to the effect that "Cecil County will not secede, let Maryland do what she will."

Gen. DARE established a camp at Perryville today. All the troops are in good condition, and are drilling.

MILITARY CAMP AT PERRYSVILLE.

HAVRE DE GRACE, Tuesday, April 23.

The camp at Perrysville contains 2,500 men. A party of Marines joined last night, with two pieces of artillery.

A sentinel was unfortunately killed last night, owing to a misunderstanding while on duty. An officer, with some friends, attempted to pass the latter through, but the sentinel not knowing him, refused. He was about firing, on advancing, when the officer hailed another sentinel, bidding him fire. This order was obeyed and the man fell dead. He belonged to Norristown.

FORT McHENRY CERTAINLY REINFORCED.

HAVRE DE GRACE, Wednesday, April 24.

A gentleman passed here from Baltimore this morning, on whom the utmost reliance can be placed, who states that Fort McHenry was certainly reinforced with six hundred men. Also, that the Baltimoreans had planted cannon towards her. The Commander ordered its removal, which was complied with. Subsequently another cannon was pointed at her on another side, which was also removed.

It is stated that an agreement had been entered into between the authorities of Baltimore and the Government for rebuilding of bridges at the expense of Baltimore, and the road would be in good running order in ten days.

There was no news from Fort Pickens at Annapolis yesterday.

REPORTED NEGRO INSURRECTION.

PHILADELPHIA, Wednesday, April 24.

A gentleman has arrived in this city who left Annapolis yesterday. He heard a report there that a negro insurrection had occurred in Anne Arundel County. Gen. BUTLER, of Massachusetts, offered the services of the Eighth (Mass.) Regiment to subdue the insurrection.

Major AMES, of Massachusetts, had left.

The Seventh Regiment of New-York, under Col. LEFFERTS, were at Annapolis on Tuesday afternoon.

Gen. BUTLER was taking measures to have the rails relaid on the Annapolis Road. They had been carefully taken up by the Railroad Company.

No difficulty was apprehended in again opening the road to Washington.

NO SUPPLIES TO BE PURCHASED BY THE GOVERNMENT IN BALTIMORE.

The following order appears in the Baltimore papers of April 23:

BALTIMORE, April 22, 1861.

It is ordered by the Mayor and the Board of Police that no provisions of any kind be transferred from the City of Baltimore to any point or place, from this time, until further orders, without special permission.

The execution of this order is intrusted to Col. I. R. TRIMBLE.

The Ericsson steamer for Philadelphia was about to depart yesterday, at noon, with the mails and passengers. On application to the Board of Police for permission to leave the port, we learn that a permit

FROM THE PACIFIC COAST.

ARRIVAL OF THE CHAMPION.

HEAVY FAILURES IN VALPARAISO.

Arrest of General Echinique.

The steamer Champion, from Aspinwall on the 15th, arrived at this port early this morning, with the California mails and passengers. She brought $884,-397 in specie.

The Pony Express has anticipated the California advices.

Our Panama correspondent, writing on the 15th, states that the excitement regarding the independence of the Isthmus had calmed down since the departure of the last steamer. Gov. GUARDIAS had replied to the representation and counter-representation of the citizens of the Department of Talroga with reference to a separation from the Granadian Confederation, refusing to convene the State Legislature in special session, to consider the proposition. His position had caused much surprise, as he was supposed to favor the movement. Notwithstanding the quietus thus given this project at Panama, petitions in favor of it continued to pour in from other Departments. One of the most noticeable of the papers was from the citizens of David, in Chiriqui.

Dates from Valparaiso are to March 19. Extensive commercial failures, chiefly among the natives of the country, had occurred. Among the more prominent we notice the names of Salas Hermanos, for $1,500,-000; Salas & Co., for $650,000—both houses in Valparaiso; Ovalli & Co., for $700,000; seven of the Evrazares, for $1,300,000; four of the Salas, for $780,000; three of the Ovallis, for $650,000; J. D. Valdes, for $200,000; J. Guil. Ganadillas, for $200,000; and J. Francisco Nevil, for $140,000. Total, $5,090,000. The last-named houses are doing business in Santiago. It is said that the Government was the creditor of these establishments to upwards of $1,000,000.

The harvest throughout the Republic was said to promise badly.

From Callao dates are to March 29. Gen. ECHINIQUE, former President of Peru, had been arrested at Callao, whither he had come from Valparaiso. He came secretly, but CASTILLA heard of his movements and sent a guard to the steamer, who finally found the ex-President stowed away between bales and trunks. He was forthwith sent to the island of San Lorenzo.

Business at Callao continued excessively dull.

By a decree of April 1, Señor JOSE MARIA VIRGO has again closed the port of Buenaventura. The 4th article says:

"The persons who pay export or import duties during the time the port is closed, will be obliged to repay the sum to the National Treasury, without being exempt from the penalties established for those who defraud the public revenue."

PROBABLE FATE OF THE LEVANT.

From the Commercial Advertiser of Honolulu, February 14, we take the subjoined opinion of its Marine Editor:

"There is every reason to believe that this vessel met with some serious disaster soon after leaving Hilo. It was Capt. HUNT's intention to have taken a northerly course from the Islands, till he judged he could fetch the port of Acapulco, where he purposed going first, to forward his dispatches to Washington. If this plan was followed, the Levant probably ran north to about lat. 34°, then tacked and headed for the Mexican coast. The brig Consort was dismasted in a gale about Oct. 15, according to one account, and Oct. 20, according to another. In looking back over our shipping memoranda, we find that the whaling barks Emerald, Robert Morrison, Florence, Braganza, ships Republic, Coral and Majestic, each report severe gales in from 35° to 45° north latitude, from Oct. 3 to Oct. 10, wind S. W., S. S. W. and N. W. in which they all received more or less damage. Had the Levant simply been disabled, she could have reached these islands under jury masts, or boats could have got here. The conclusion forces itself on us that, if she met disaster, it has proved fatal to the ship and all on board. Still, we hope that the mail, now due, will report her safe arrival at Panama."

LATER FROM THE PACIFIC.

Arrival of the Overland Express—Census Returns of California—Excitement in St. Clara County—Flood at Sacramento &c.

FORT KEARNEY, April 24.

The Pony Express passed at 11.15 yesterday, bringing the following news from the Pacific Coast:

SAN FRANCISCO, April 10.

Arrived 8th, ships Black Hawk, Grace Darling, Boston; brig Martha Washington and ship Spitfire, Boston; ship Emilie Pierce, Bordeaux; spoke, March 29, 26° north, 128° west, ship Peruvian, New-York, for San Francisco; March 29, 26° north, 129° west, ship Revenue, Glasgow, for San Francisco.

Sailed 6th, ship Anglo-Saxon, Mazatlan; bark Marbs, London; 9th, ship Mary Whiteridge, Hong Kong, carrying assorted merchandize, valued at $17,-800, and $18,000 in gold and silver; ships Radient and Great Republic, both chartered for England; the former, in beating out of harbor last evening, grounded on one of the islands in the Bay, and remained till this evening, when a tug-boat hauled her off, probably without damage, although the examination was not completed; ships Golconda, chartered for breadstuffs for England; and Eagle, for New-York.

THEODORE PAYNE, a prominent citizen of San Francisco, who returned from New-York by the last steamer, died yesterday of Panama.

The official abstract of the census of California has been received from the Bureau at Washington, and the Legislature are considering a bill to reapportion the State, so that each county will be represented according to its population. By the new law the commercial and agricultural districts will elect a majority of the Legislature, whereas, heretofore, the mining districts have vastly preponderated. The opinion prevails here that an extra session of Congress must be called, but the Legislature does not seem inclined to order an election of Congressmen by special act, so that California can be represented in the lower House of such extra session.

There has been great excitement in St. Clara County during the week, in consequence of an attempt, by the Sheriff, to enforce the decree of Court ejecting settlers from the tract of land held under a Mexican title, known as the Chavolla Range. Yesterday was the day that the Sheriff's summons for a posse comitatus to assist in serving his writ of ejectment, was returnable, and a large number of members of the Settlers' League had assembled on the ranch to assist the settlers in resisting the writ. Their numbers were variously reported at from five hundred to one thousand men, together with a large number of outside sympathizers. The settlers were all armed with guns, and had as many as four small cannon. The sheriff called the roll of those summoned to his assistance; 300 were called and about 200 answered to their names. The Sheriff asked the crowd if they were armed and ready to go and assist him; they returned an emphatic "No!" and were then dismissed. What course the State authorities will adopt to enforce the law is yet uncertain; the popular sympathy of the country is evidently with the settlers.

In the municipal election held yesterday in the town of San José, the Democrats triumphed by 120 majority. The Republicans carried the town last Fall.

Trade is almost totally interrupted by the condition of the roads and threatened overflows up the country. Money comes in scantily; coffee is the only article in demand, and this activity is owing to the anticipation that the principal holders are about to establish an advance in prices.

The steamship St. Louis sails for Panama to-morrow morning at 9 o'clock.

Lady FRANKLIN and niece sailed yesterday for Honolulu, to proceed thence to Australia, India and home.

The Pony Express, with St. Louis dates, via Fort Kearney, will reach San Francisco to-night.

The Legislature has been very industrious this week, passing a great number of bills of local interest, the most important being for the reclamation of swamp lands of this State. The funds in the State Treasury are again very low. An act to prohibit lotteries and gift enterprises was passed.

There was great danger of an overflow at Sacramento City, and yesterday and day before the river had risen near 22 feet above low-water mark; the levee in the lower part of the city began to break away, the alarm-bells of the city were rung to call the people to the rescue, and hundreds of men went to work to stop up the breach, which they finally succeeded in doing by sinking a hulk and employing railway cars to carry cobble-stones in large quantities to fill up the crevasse. The river is now slowly falling and the danger less imminent. An overflow at Sacramento would surely damage millions of property.

The list of passengers for New-York, as far as it has been completed down to 2 P. M. to-day, is as follows:

[illegible], Judge Coon and family, E. Moses, [illegible] and family, Dr. J. D. Thompson and family, [illegible] and family, Mrs. O. Chase and two children, Mrs. Kohl, W. Foderick and wife, O. WEDNESDAY, April 24—P. M.

The Stock Exchange, in these exciting war times, is not expected to be otherwise than feverish in temper and violent in the fluctuations of price. The dealings to-day reversed the order of yesterday. They were generally downward, and the latest printed sales reported bids this afternoon on the Share list, compare as follows with the closing prices yesterday afternoon:

New-York Central declined	72¾@71½
New-York and Erie	20¼@19
Hudson River	36½@34½
Harlem Preferred	32 @29½
Philadelphia and Reading	33 @31
Michigan Central	44 @42

The fall is about an average of 2 ℔ cent, though still leaving the market higher than on Monday. On the Federal Stocks funds were firmer, as it is understood that the Committee of Merchants on the next Money wants of the Government, recommend a People's Loan, in the shape of Convertible Treasury paper, bearing 6 ℔ cent, and having two years to run. This recommendation being already consistent with the understood views of the Secretary, (which are opposed to any large sacrifice in the Public Credit,) precludes the probability of the further issue even for war purposes, of Funded Stock, unless it should be at par. The recommendations of Messrs. Stewart, Brown, James Gallatin, J. Campbell, Jr., and others composing the Committee referred to, is also consistent with the plain intent of the fourth section of the Act of March 2, drawn by Hon. JOHN SHERMAN, for the express purpose of allowing the whole people to participate in the loans of money to the Government, down to the sum of $50, and to avoid undue sacrifices upon the Funded Stocks. The following is the report of the Committee:

The Committee appointed by the Chamber of Commerce on Friday last assembled on Saturday, and elected PELETIAH PERIT, Esq., Chairman, and GEORGE S. COE, Esq., Secretary. At an adjourned meeting held on Monday, the Chairman was requested to write to the Secretary of the Treasury respecting the balance of the stock authorized to be issued, amounting to about nine millions, recommending at the same time an issue of Treasury notes. The following resolution was adopted:

Resolved, That a Committee of three be appointed to correspond with parties in other cities in reference to taking said loan.

Messrs. James Gallatin, Stewart, Brown, and J. Campbell, Jr., were appointed said Committee, who issued the following circular letter:

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE ROOMS,
NEW-YORK, April 23, 1861.

SIR: At a special meeting of the Chamber of Commerce, called to consider the present alarming condition of the country, a Committee was appointed consisting of the following gentlemen:

Peletiah Perit,	James Gallatin,
Stewart Brown,	Moses Taylor,
Wm. H. Aspinwall,	Geo. S. Coe,
J. J. Astor, Jr.,	F. A. Palmer,
Aug. Belmont,	John Q. Jones,
J. M. Morrison,	D. R. Martin,
A. T. Stewart,	Jacob Campbell, Jr.

To procure subscriptions for the balance of the stock of the United States, authorized to be issued under the act of the 8th of February last, amounting to about nine millions dollars, and to communicate with the Secretary of the Treasury on the subject.

And at a meeting of that Committee the undersigned were chosen to correspond with parties in other cities, and to ascertain how far they will participate in this subscription.

In accordance with the duty assigned to us, we beg leave, through you, to ask the coöperation of banks, institutions and individuals, in your city and vicinity, and we beg the favor to communicate to us, if possible, within one week, the amount which we can rely upon through your medium.

The Secretary of the Treasury is required by law to receive bids for a six ℔ cent. stock, after ten days advertisement, and is authorized to reject all bids he may think best, after which he may issue, at par, Treasury notes bearing interest at six ℔ cent, and convertible at any time within two years, into a six ℔ cent. stock, reimbursable in twenty years.

The Committee have recommended Treasury notes as best both for the Government and for the subscribers.

It is useless for us to present to you any further considerations to urge the utmost energy in this subscription, than that the Government require it.

Yours, respectfully,
JAMES GALLATIN,
STEWART BROWN, } Committee.
J. CAMPBELL, JR.

The State Stocks were much unsettled, Virginias falling back to 42 ℔ cent. cash, and 40 ℔ cent. seller 10 days. Missouris from 44 yesterday afternoon, fell back to 42½ ℔ cent. Tennessees were steadiest, selling at 48 ℔ cent. as against 47 yesterday afternoon. Kentuckys rose to 80 ℔ cent. Treasury paper was steady at par. Brooklyn Water Loan fell off to 95 ℔ cent. The change in Railway mortgages are not important since yesterday. The business doing is not large, as holders generally of approved mortgages upon the leading lines of the country paying 7 ℔ cent. interest steadily, are indisposed to sell at a sacrifice. The general movement of the Stock Exchange amounts to a fair average in point of actual transactions, and with the reaction against prices to-day there is less excitement than on Monday or Tuesday. On the Street, among the Brokers, as with almost every other class of the community, the greatest anxiety was manifested for the whereabouts and security of the Seventh Regiment. The market, at a later hour, in the Street, closed without material change from the last printed sales; New-York Central, 71 ℔ cent.

The engagements for the Persia's mail, which closed at 1 o'clock this afternoon, closed with a firmer tone than was shown yesterday, and a large amount of transient Bank bills and of Bankers' bills drawn here were taken up at 105¼@105½ ℔ cent., and the market was also relieved of considerable sums of good Merchant at 104½@105¼ ℔ cent. The rate on London for standard Bankers' is now called 106 ℔ cent. In Money affairs we hear of no change to-day.

Messrs. NEILL BROTHERS, in the circular for the Persia, remark:

"Never has the future supply of American cotton been in so precarious a condition as at the present time, and in no case can we calculate on more than a very moderate supply for next year. The present available supply of cotton on this side is quite trifling, and in this market holders are demanding extreme prices, while many have withdrawn from the market and hold for much higher rates. Under these circumstances, it appears probable that the consumption of American cotton will have to be economized very closely, and our manufacturing friends will do well to recognize the facts at once. At the South prices are nominal from the difficulty of getting cotton away, while the little that is here will soon command fancy rates."

The rumor referred to yesterday, and directly contradicted, in reference to the transfer of Southern Bank balances to the South in Gold, induced the District Attorney, this forenoon, to prepare a circular to the Banks on the subject, but finding, on proper inquiry, that there is no occasion for his interference, the intended official notice was not served. Since the blockade, by sea, of last week, and the rule of the express companies on the subject, overland, it would be impossible to forward Specie to the seceded States at present, even if the course of trade and exchanges at this season of the year demanded it, which it does not, or the Southern Banks were alarmed for the safety of their balances in New-York, which they need not be.

Southern Flour has been in very brisk demand, chiefly on speculation, at advanced prices. The reported sales add up 6,800 bbls., at $5 80@$6 30 for very poor to good superfine Alexandria, Baltimore, &c., and $6 35@$8 25 for fancy to choice extra brands, ℔ bbl. Canadian Flour is in request, including inferior to very choice extra at $5 20@$7 50 ℔ bbl.; sales 700 bbls. Rye Flour is salable and steady at $3 30@$4 40 for fine and superfine, ℔ bbl. Corn Meal continues in demand at $2 85 for Jersey, and $3 15 for Brandywine, ℔ bbl.

GRAIN—Wheat has been freely offered, at rather easier prices. The demand has been somewhat restricted. The sales comprise 52,000 bushels, including Canada Club, part at $1 26; White Western at $1 40@$1; Red Western, at $1 32@$1 34; the latter rate for small lots; Amber Wisconsin at $1 29; Milwaukee Club, at $1 25@$1 28; Northwestern Club, at $1 24; Chicago Spring part at $1 20@$1 22; choice Amber Southern at $1 50; and White California on private terms ℔ bushel. Corn is essentially unchanged. Sales 49,000 bushels, at 62½c.@64c. for new mixed Western; 67c.@68c. for old do. do.; 67c.@68c. for Yellow Southern, and 70c. for White Southern, ℔ bushel. Rye continues in demand at 68c.@68½c. ℔ bushel. Barley is unaltered. Sales 800 bushels State at 60c. ℔ bushel. Oats are in limited demand, including Canada, at 33c.@36c.; Western at 34½c.@35½c.; and State at 35½c.@36½c. ℔ bushel.

The movements in Breadstuffs during the past fortnight, Mr. E. BILL notices thus: "The war excitement which has suddenly come upon us has absorbed the public mind, and for a time caused almost an entire suspension of business. The trade in Flour for the fortnight has been quiet and inactive, and mostly of a retail character. The export business has been checked by the dull state of the foreign markets. For Southern brands there is more inquiry, and all descriptions are rather higher. At the close yesterday prices of State and Western were irregular, still favoring the buyer. Holders of Wheat, with moderate stocks, are firm, and the decline but slight. There is, however, very little selling for export, that branch of business feeling the effect of the unfavorable advices from England and France, and the difficulty of negotiating Sterling Exchange to advantage. The decline is principally upon Spring qualities. Choice White is in demand, and not plenty. Indian Corn is in fair demand, for home use and export. Rye has slightly improved in value, and some sales have been made for export to the Continent."

Andrew J. Hackley Again in Custody—Another Habeas Corpus.

SUPREME COURT—CHAMBERS.

Before Judge Barnard.

In the matter of Andrew J. Hackley.—It appears that Mr. HACKLEY is again in custody, upon an indictment for a criminal contempt of Court by the Oyer and Terminer, in refusing to answer the question as to what he did with the $40,000 given to him by Mr. HOPE, his answer to which was that an answer would disgrace and tend to criminate himself.

An application for his discharge from this second arrest is now made. The case stands adjourned until 11 o'clock to-day.

WM. FULLERTON for the prisoner; Mr. ANTHON opposed.

Arrest on Civil Process—Military Privileges.

COMMON PLEAS—CHAMBERS.

Before Judge Daly.

Robert M. Wilson vs. H. B. Foote et al.—This was a motion to vacate an order of arrest, the action having been brought on a promissory note against both maker and indorser. The plaintiff alleges in his affidavit that he performed certain work and labor for the defendants, for which he took their note, the defendants, as alleged, at the time representing themselves to be men of means, whereas, it is alleged, that they were wholly insolvent and carried on a quack business as doctors in this City. The defendant, Foote, however, was discharged on the ground of his exemption from arrest, being an alleged assistant surgeon in the Second Regiment, then awaiting marching orders. The motion, however, as to the other defendant was laid over until Saturday, to enable him to put in furher affidavits.

Wheeler & Armstrong for motion; J. M. Wilson, opposed.

Jury Disagree in the Transportation Case.

SUPERIOR COURT—TRIAL TERM.

Before Justice White.

Burnham Benson vs. The New-Jersey Transportation Company.—This case was reported in the TIMES on the 23d inst. The action was brought to recover damages for not carrying the plaintiff to Philadelphia by the 12 o'clock train, at which time he presented himself at the dépôt to go, but the defendants refused to carry him. He purchased his ticket with a view of going on this particular train, and by reason of his not going, he alleges that he suffered damages. The Jury, being unable to agree upon a verdict, were discharged.

L. E. Bulkley, for plaintiff; Edgar S. Van Winkle, for defendant.

Court of General Sessions.

A BEASTLY BRUTE SEVERELY PUNISHED.

In this Court yesterday, before Recorder HOFFMAN, Mr. Garvin prosecuting for the people, Charles Herring was put to the bar on four indictments for rapes and one for robbery. The prisoner was charged with a series of most disgusting outrages on little girls, decoyed from Broadway into out-of-the-way halls and yards. From one of these girls it seems that the prisoner took a dollar bill by force. In order to avoid the publicity into which the misfortune of the little girls would be brought by the prisoner's trial on the charges of rape, his plea of guilty on the charge of robbery was taken, and he was sent to State Prison for ten years.

THE BELLUM AD HOMINEM.

John Johnson indicted for felonious assault, in pointing a loaded revolver at George N. Earle, with intent to kill, was next tried. The complainant testified that the prisoner came into his saloon, and being ordered to leave, refused. Mr. Earl then laid his hand on the prisoner's shoulder to remove him, when the latter presented a loaded pistol at his head, threatening to shoot him. Another witness who was present at the occurrence, testified to the same effect. The officer who made the arrest, testified that the pistol was loaded. The prisoner had no witnesses, and the jury rendered a verdict of simple assault, and the prisoner was remanded for sentence.

THE INDICTMENT OF HACKLEY REMOVED TO THE OYER AND TERMINER.

The case of Mr. Hackley, indicted in this Court for a criminal contempt, was removed by order of Judge BARNARD to the Oyer and Terminer, where the case will be tried.

William Crowning, who had pleaded guilty of attempt at burglary in the third degree, was sentenced to the City Prison for one day, as it was his first offence, and he had borne a previous good character. He had already been some time in prison.

CAME DOWN WITHOUT A SHOT.

Frederick Vogel, indicted for grand larceny of $175 worth of clothing, was next tried.

Richard Evans testified that he lived in Walker-street. At this point the prisoner concluded to surrender on terms, and pleaded guilty of an attempt at grand larceny.

STOOD THE FIRE.

William Hoffman, John Meyers and Lewis Brown, who had been indicted with the last prisoner for the same offence, were then tried.

Mr. Evans continued his testimony. In April last, on Saturday evening, he missed a trunk containing all his property, consisting of clothes, deeds, and $40 in money. On returning from market, he saw the prisoners at his place, drinking and singing. In a few minutes they left, and immediately after, the witness missed the property. During the absence of the witness, he left his bar-tender in charge. The trunk was kept in a little closet behind the bar-room. Next day the witness saw a part of his property at the Station house. Subsequently, at a house in Park street, he found a part of his trunk which had been partially burned, and also a part of his clothing. Witness had occupied the house from which the goods were stolen only a week.

Sigfig Leves, the complainant's bar-keeper, testified to the same effect as the other witness. The trunk was not taken out through the bar-room. There was a rear door through which it might be taken. At the Station-house one of the prisoners said to the other, "the things have been found; why didn't you tell the officer that we found them; we shall be convicted." This was said in German. While all the prisoners were in the saloon, one of them went out a few minutes, and then returned. The testimony was not finished when the Court adjourned, and the case is still on.

HACKLEY AGAIN INDICTED.

At this time the Grand Jury came in, and presented, among other matters, another indictment against Andrew J. Hackley for the criminal contempt, committed on the day previous, in refusing to testify before the Grand Jury. This was the second indictment of this sort against the prisoner.

The Court then adjourned to this morning at 10 o'clock, when the following cases will be taken up:

This magnificent instrument, introduced in the United States May 3, 1859, which the brilliant performances of THALBERG, VILANOVA, Mlle. WELLIS, have rendered as popular in America as in Europe, was adopted by the greatest artists and composers of both continents—GOTTSCHALK, LISZT, ROSSINI, MEYERBEER, &c., &c. The Alexandre Organ is celebrated for the solidity and precision of its mechanism, as well as for the fullness and power of the tones, and the remarkable quality of keeping perfectly in tune in all climates. Prices at the depot: $45, $60, $100, [illegible], [illegible], [illegible]. A descriptive circular sent to any address, on application to

NEWS OF THE DAY.

We have intelligence from the National Capital up to 3 o'clock, on Tuesday afternoon, through a New-York merchant who reached Harrisburgh, by way of Chambersburgh, yesterday. He says that there are now more than ten thousand troops in Washington, while the force of Virginia Secessionists previously reported at Alexandria, numbers only about two thousand, and that not more than one-half of the latter are armed. It was known to the Government that Gen. BEAUREGARD, lately commanding the secession forces at Charleston, was expected in Richmond on Tuesday, but nothing is said of JEFF. DAVIS' proximity to that point, though the statement that the secession President has already made Richmond his head-quarters is positively made. Washington, however, may now be considered safe. Gen. SCOTT is rapidly extending his pickets into Maryland, and they will soon reach Annapolis, and thus the line of road will be kept open to the Capital for the transportation of troops going through Harrisburgh, and also by water from Havre de Grace and other points, until such time as a safe passage can be insured through Baltimore. For a highly interesting account of the condition of affairs at Washington up to Tuesday morning, we refer to the statement of our special correspondent.

From the most direct and reliable intelligence which has reached us, we are led to the gratifying conclusion that the Seventh Regiment, of this City, must now be safe in Washington. We publish an abstract of official reports made to the Executive Department of Massachusetts, giving in detail the operations of the Massachusetts troops, from the period of their embarkation at Havre de Grace, in which our New-York regiment is mentioned as participating. The landing at Annapolis was effected without actual opposition, though under threats, and our troops immediately proceeded to the reconstruction of the railroad to Washington, the rails having been removed by the Railroad Company. This labor was concluded, probably, on Tuesday night, and the troops only await the arrival of the Fifth Massachusetts Regiment, with its accompanying artillery battery and rifle battalion, to march immediately and keep communication open.

The latest intelligence from Fort Monroe reaches us by way of Boston, the steamer S. R. Spaulding having arrived there yesterday morning, after successfully landing the troops sent on board her. The previous reports relative to the destruction of property at the Norfolk Navy-yard are confirmed. The Commander of the Spaulding states that about five thousand Virginia troops were concentrated at Norfolk, and that more were arriving. He also states that the Virginians talk of storming Fort Monroe, as that is the only way in which it would be possible to capture it; but as the land approach is a narrow rock, only about one hundred feet wide, and as the fort is surrounded by a moat nearly forty feet across, and containing eight feet of water at low tide, they will probably hesitate some time before attempting it. Nevertheless, the residents near the fortress had been notified that it was a dangerous locality, and they were hastening to leave. The Virginians were erecting batteries at Stowell's Point, overlooking Hampton Roads.

We hear of no further movements in Baltimore looking to an attack on Fort McHenry. Cannon have been put in position against it at two different points, but they have been removed at the order of the Commandant. The railroads, which have been destroyed on each approach to the city, are to be restored at the City's expense.

It is stated that Col. EDWIN A. STEVENS, the millionaire, of New-Jersey, has signified his intention of equipping an entire regiment of his own selection for the service of the country.

The steamship Champion reached this port yesterday morning, from Aspinwall on the 15th inst. She brought the California mails and passengers, and $887,000 in specie. There is nothing new relative to the revolution in New-Granada. The most important intelligence from the South Pacific is the announcement of a commercial crisis at Valparaiso. Failures had taken place for sums amounting in the aggregate to upwards of six millions of dollars. ECHENIQUE, the former President of Peru, had been arrested at Callao, whither he had gone in disguise. He was sent by President CASTILLA to the island of San Lorenzo as a prisoner.

The Pony Express passed Fort Kearney on Tuesday, with advices from San Francisco to the 10th inst. An excitement similar somewhat to the Anti-Rent excitements of New-York, existed in Santa Clara County. A Court decree having been issued to eject settlers from a tract of land held under a Mexican grant, the Sheriff had made an attempt to enforce the decree, but the resistance had been so formidable that he had been forced to desist. It had not yet been decided by the State authorities what course to pursue under these circumstances. The California Legislature had been quite industrious, and had passed a considerable number of bills for local improvements—among them one for reclaiming swamp lands. At Sacramento City, on account of a great rise in the river, there was danger of an overflow. The water was nearly twenty-two feet above low water mark, and there was at one time danger that the levee would be swept away. Trade with the interior continued to be much interrupted.

At Chambers of the Supreme Court, before Justice BARNARD, a writ of habeas corpus was again granted for the relief of ANDREW J. HACKLEY, who is once more in custody, for recusancy as a witness before the Grand Jury. The matter was adjourned until to-day. At Special Term of the Common Pleas Court, Judge DALY vacated an order of arrest against one Dr. FOOTE, on the ground that as an Assistant Surgeon, (in the Second Regiment,) and being under marching orders, he was not liable to arrest on civil process. In the General Sessions another indictment was found against ANDREW J. HACKLEY for criminal contempt of Court. The first indictment was removed, by order of Judge BARNARD, to the Oyer and Terminer. CHARLES HERRING was sent ten years to Sing Sing for robbery, and various petty pleas were taken.

The Stock Market reacted, yesterday, 2 per cent., as compared with the rise on Tuesday, and closed unsettled. New-York Central, 71 ℘ cent.; Missouris, 42 ℘ cent. Exchange on London, after some heavy sales for the Persia, at 105¾@105⅞, closed 106 ℘ cent. No change in Money affairs.

A fair inquiry prevailed for Cotton, which again advanced. Flour was in more demand, and prices, especially of Southern, were higher. The transactions in Grain were restricted, though buyers had any existing advantage. Groceries were quiet. Rice and Beef were actively sought after, at firmer rates. Pork was in less request, as were also Hay and Whisky. Lard was freely purchased, but at easier figures. Naval Stores were in lively demand, at buoyant prices. Freights were dull, and rates were much lower. Other branches of trade presented no really new features.

At the Live Stock market, the supply of animals is fully up to the demand. The receipts at the various City yards, for the week ending yesterday, numbered 3,525 beef cattle; 73 milch cows; 1,153 veal calves; 8,843 sheep and lambs; 6,615 live hogs—total 20,209. The abundance of cheap fresh shad, the overplus of beef last week, and the unwillingness of brokers to give the usual credit to butchers, many of whom are "off for the war," depressed the sales, and prices closed at last week's low rates, or 8½c@9c. ℘ ℔, estimated dressed weight, for fine grade cattle, and from that down to 6½c. for inferior grades. There is beginning to be a demand for second class, not poor grades of bullocks, for packing for army supplies. Milch cows sell slowly at former low rates, while calves can be bought at one's own price. Some of them were sold at 3c.@4c. ℘ ℔, and good calves at that. Sheep are very plenty, and 50c. ℘ head lower. They were not all sold. Hogs are in fair supply at at a trifling advance.

Wanted—A Leader!

In every great crisis, the human heart demands a leader that incarnates its ideas, its emotions and its aims. Till such a leader appears, everything is disorder, disaster and defeat. The moment he takes the helm, order, promptitude and confidence follow as the necessary result. When we see such results, we know that a hero leads. No such hero at present directs affairs. The experience of our Government for months past has been a series of defeats. It has been one continued retreat. Its path is marked by the wrecks of property destroyed. It has thus far only urged war upon itself. It confidingly enters into compacts with traitors who seek them merely to gain time better to strike a fatal blow. Stung to the quick by the disgraces we have suffered, by the disasters sustained, by the treachery which threatens the annihilation of all order, law, and property, and by the insults heaped upon our National banner, the people have sprung to arms, and demand satisfaction for wounded honor and for violation of laws, which must be vindicated, or we may at once bid farewell to society, to government, and to property, and sink into barbarism.

The spirit evoked within the last fortnight has no parallel since the day of Peter the Hermit. In the last ten days, 100,000 men have sprung to their feet, and, arming and provisioning themselves, are rushing to a contest which can never be quelled till they have triumphed. A holy zeal inspires every loyal heart. To sacrifice comfort, property and life even, is nothing, because if we fail, we must give up these for our children, for humanity, and for ourselves. Where is the leader of this sublime passion? Can the Administration furnish him? We do not question the entire patriotism of every member of it, nor their zeal for the public welfare. The President, in the selection of his Cabinet, very properly regarded the long and efficient services of men in the advocacy of the principles that triumphed in his election. To him the future was seen in the past. But in the few weeks of his official life all past political distinctions have been completely effaced. From a dream of profound peace we awake with our enemy at our throat. Who shall grapple with this foe? Men that can match his activity, quick instincts and physical force. A warrior—not a philosopher; a Cromwell—not a Bacon or a Locke.

Many of the Cabinet, having outlived the hot blood of youth, are vainly attempting to reason with this foe. As well might they oppose a feather to a whirlwind. JEFFERSON DAVIS has surrounded himself with spirits kindred to his own. Think of offering the olive-branch to such men as TOOMBS and WIGFALL. These men are seeking to put a chain about our necks, to secure our humiliation by the destruction of all our national interests, "Our money, or our life, or both."

What are we called upon to defend. The welfare of 19,000,000 of freemen, with everything that render life desirable. Were the selection of the Cabinet to be made to-day, would not the past be entirely forgotten in the present? Would not all party ties be completely effaced?

Is not the Cabinet the representative of the past, instead of the present? Is it not exactly in the frame of mind it was in the day of its appointment? From the first its policy has been purely negative, and cooped up in Washington, surrounded on all sides by a hostile population, it still thinks only of self-defense, and yields to the demands of those seeking its destruction in the measured periods of diplomatic intercourse.

Well may the great heart of the North turn away sickened at such a spectacle. Is this a suitable response to the ardor of youth that rushes to the contest regardless of every consequence, and at the risk of severing every tie that can give grace or charm to life? The hope, and pride, and strength of the country is exposed without plan or forethought for the future, to an able, treacherous and relentless foe. We dread to get the news of the first encounter. We all know how England swayed to and fro under the loss of her best blood in the reckless charge of the light Brigade. How could our more mercurial natures bear up under a similar disaster to the gallant Seventh? It is the duty of the members of the Cabinet to look the thing squarly in the face and conscientiously ask themselves this question: "Are we disqualified from age, from inexperience in Executive action, from constitutional timidity, or from inate reluctance to face the horrors of war, to represent this people and country in this hour of travail?" If not, let them earn the gratitude of the people by giving way courteously to the exigencies of the hour, and laying their ambition on the alter of their country. By a timely act of self-sacrifice they may give relief to the anxious heart of this mighty host of earnest, patriotic men who are unselfishly exposing their lives and fortunes without any other object or motive than their country's honor and welfare,—the relief that follows the knowledge that they are directed by bold, strong and competent men, fitted by sterner natures for this revolutionary epoch of their country's history.

Treason in Baltimore.

We learn by private dispatches from Baltimore, dated on Saturday, that large numbers of the leading merchants, and others, are, by words, if not by example, leading on the mob to their assaults upon Union men and Federal troops. To the encouragement of first citizens may be traced the murder of the Massachusetts soldiers. Thus backed, the vilest and most desperate villains in the city rush through the streets crying for powder, shot and arms, that they may "kill somebody"—anybody. "I want to shoot"—"I want to shoot," is the cry of the rabble. The Governor and Mayor are much blamed for not preparing to repress the mob, as they had positive indications of the coming row the day before.

But the condemnation of the Union men may be premature. It is believed that the heart of Maryland, and Baltimore especially, are rotten and traitorous to the core, and that the majority of the first-classes have been waiting and preparing for months, under the guise of "Union" and "conciliation," to lead the mob against the real Union men and the Federal Government. Let no one now indulge in a regret at the probable destruction of Baltimore. Let us rather respect and give quarter to honest South Carolina. When Gov. HICKS, surrounded by an armed and desperate mob, and asked on their behalf by a prominent citizen if he would lead them against the invaders or leave them to act for themselves—when thus addressed, said that he stood ready "to exert all proper means to resent this indignity to the State, and to prevent its recurrence," we must not necessarily brand him as a traitor. Think of what he has done in keeping a band of traitors at bay so long. The fact is, he and a few loyal citizens do not appear to constitute a sufficient proportion of virtue to save their modern Sodom from destruction. Let it be destroyed, if it is necessary first to depose the Government at Washington that now defends it. No compromise with traitors.

The Administration's View of War.

We copied yesterday a very remarkable narrative which appeared in the Baltimore papers of Monday, purporting to be an account of a conversation between the President and the Mayor of Baltimore, and several gentlemen of that city—the interview having been invited by the President.

The account is signed by the names of the Mayor and several citizens, well known here as gentlemen of veracity. Allowing for the differences of understanding of conversational phrases, it must be supposed to be substantially correct and authentic. If so, we do not hesitate to say that it is the most discouraging event which has yet taken place, and that even a defeat on the field of battle would hardly be so demoralizing.

The following are some extracts from the narrative of these gentlemen:

> "The protection of Washington, the President asseverated with great earnestness, was the sole object of concentrating troops there, and he protested that none of the troops brought through Maryland were intended for any purpose hostile to the State, or aggressive as against the Southern States.
>
> The interview terminated with the distinct assurance on the part of the President that no more troops would be sent through Baltimore unless obstructed in their transit in other directions, and with the understanding that the City authorities should do their best to restrain their own people.
>
> The Mayor and his companions availed themselves of the President's full discussion of the questions of the day to urge upon him respectfully, but in the most earnest manner, a course of policy which would give peace to the country, and especially the withdrawal of all orders contemplating the passage of troops through any part of Maryland."

Good Heavens! one is ready to say, is this the conception of the Commander-in-Chief of our armies, of the existing state of affairs.

The Capital of our country is begirt with enemies; our foremost military position is cut off from all connection with its base, and from all direct supplies of men or provisions by an armed mob in a neighboring city. The life and death struggle for national existence has begun, and yet our General sends for the Mayor of this rabble, and instead of saying that communication must be kept up with his supplies at any cost, he negotiates with him. He discusses calmly where our armies may be "permitted" to march to save the Capital.

While New-York and New-England have been pouring forth their treasure and offering the bloom of their youth, without stint or measure, knowing that the robber's hand is at the throat of our Government, our philosophic President has leisure to discuss "all the questions of the day" with the Magistrate of the rascally crew who have been murdering our soldiers, and who seek now to cut us off from saving Washington! Does the President not know that we have passed all that long ago? The "questions of the day"—Crittenden Compromises or Republican platforms—are all dead and buried now. The only question now, is, how to save our country. We must remind these amiable and disputatory gentlemen in Washington, that we are in WAR. The question of a transit for our soldiers through Maryland is no longer a subject for debates and arguments. It is a military question, and should be left entirely to military men. Some route, and a direct one, we must have through that State, to Washington, for troops and materiel of war, or we must hold it with the armed hand. We can hardly believe it possible, that the President could have committed such a blunder as to pledge himself that the troops sent to Washington were not to be used in any aggressive act against the Southern States. He has no right to make any such pledge. We are at war. The direction in which our troops are to be employed must be decided entirely on strategical principles. The most humane and peaceful use of them may be at once to make an attack on Richmond. At any rate, no military or civil leader ought to tie his hands in such a way at a time like this. The people are not rising up like one man in this crisis of the country, merely to preserve an armed neutrality. They know that a short, vigorous and decisive war is what is most demanded now.

The withdrawal by the President, as stated in a subsequent part of this narrative—of the soldiers at Cockeysville, merely from a scruple that there was an appearance of bad faith in retaining them there, while he was negotiating with the Mayor, is a delicate straining of a point of honor which is almost incredible in such an emergency as this. Is Mayor Brown of Baltimore a public enemy of the United States, such that the presence of American volunteers within fifteen miles of his city breaks up his treaty of amity and peace with the General Government? Are the scrupulous sentiments of Baltimore Plug-Uglies and Blood-Tubs to be consulted to such a nice degree, that every United States soldier within twenty miles, must be withdrawn, while the President is informing their civil officer that he must restrain them? Gen. SCOTT consents to this withdrawal, we are told, but Gen. SCOTT is seventy-six years old, and is generally understood not to enter into this struggle with much heartiness. The President ought never to have been led into such negotiations as would give the slightest appearance of justice, and a claim for the withdrawal of the United States soldiers from the soil of Maryland. He has no time for such pacific dealings. The batteries of the rebels are thundering at his gates. He needs every soldier he can get; and to send away three thousand men, under an experienced officer, merely because their presence is thought insulting to the dignity of Maryland, is the height of a Quixotic scrupulosity.

We sincerely hope that this conversation has been incorrectly reported by these gentlemen of Baltimore. If not, we fear the Administration will only understand the nature of the conflict when Col. LEE's batteries are playing on Washington.

WESTERN VIRGINIA.—A gentleman who arrived from Wheeling last night informs us that the Union feeling is decidedly predominant there. Over two thousand five hundred men are enrolled, ready to fight for the Government. At Morgantown, a few days since, a Union meeting was held, at which it was resolved to divide the State, in case a secession ordinance was passed.

In Wellsburgh, the Union feeling is very strong, and a volunteer force, for the preservation of the Government, will soon be offered.

At Parkersburgh, an incident occurred a few days since, which is thus described:

> "It appears that the Secessionists had taken possession of small arms which had been stored at that place by the Government, with the intention of appropriating them to their own use. The Union men, on learning this, armed themselves with stones, brickbats, &c., and made an attack on their opponents, compelling them to make an inglorious retreat, not, however, before some twenty or thirty of them had been badly injured. The arms were taken from them, and placed in a warehouse, under a strong guard, where they will await the order of the Government."

It is refreshing to find that the whole population of Virginia is not hopelessly given over to believe the secession lie. It is incredible that any of its people should be so utterly and fatally blind to their interests;—but it is some satisfaction to know that Western Virginia can never be induced to cast her fortunes with South Carolina and Mississippi.

The Plan of the Campaign.

Every day that is wasted now will cost the nation a million of dollars and a thousand lives.

The military observer has been puzzled by what he has seen during the last week, but the news just received that the Pennsylvania troops have been recalled from Cockeysville, no longer puzzles, but amazes. There might have been some doubt what plan to adopt under the supposition that Maryland would prove loyal; but the instant her treasonable purposes were known, the plan of the campaign no longer presented an alternative. What a spectacle is now presented twenty millions of people of the highest intelligence, courage and wealth, can only receive news from their Capital at intervals of many days, and then only through straggling travelers! Not a moment is to be lost. The entire force of Pennsylvania should at once be thrown into Maryland, for the twofold purpose of threatening Baltimore, and protecting the communication with Ohio and the West. By the unaccountable blunder of sending the Pennsylvania forces to swell unnecessarily the legions of New-York and the Eastern States, the rebels are left unmolested, and at liberty not only to cut off the great highway to the Capital, but also to interfere with the precarious route over Annapolis.

The Government must at once change its tactics and adopt a plan of campaign worthy of the power and resources of the Republic. Dispatch 3,000 Pennsylvanians instantly to Havre de Grace to hold that place firmly, and gradually reëstablish the communication with Baltimore; march the remainder of the Pennsylvania contingent, say 10,000 men, on Baltimore and the extreme western part of Maryland, for the purpose before mentioned. This done, the rebels of Maryland will be obliged to desist from annoying the Annapolis road by any considerable force. The half-disciplined, but loyal, brave and willing men, that we have just seen pass through our streets, should be employed in guarding this indispensable communication with the Capital. Such a service these men could perform as well as troops of better discipline, and, whilst thus occupied, they would learn their duties as soldiers. Deplete our State armories, if necessary, of their artillery, to defend the most dangerous places on the Annapolis road, for now the honor of the country depends upon keeping this communication open. Of course, every regiment sufficiently drilled should pass on to the defence of the Capital. A telegraph between Annapolis and Washington should be established—and could be established—within 48 hours. A dozen of our swift river steamers, of light draft, should at once be sent to Chesapeake Bay, to keep up a constant communication between Havre de Grace and Annapolis. In this manner, we should, by means of the telegraph, be within seven hours' distance of the Capital. The present state of things is intolerable and disgraceful.

The report that Washington stands in need of provisions is of painful import. The want should be attended to by employing every available coasting steamer to carry provisions to Annapolis, and by dispatching a few hundred freight cars with locomotive engines to the Annapolis road. These preliminary measures admit not of a moment's delay. In good time Maryland will be in our hands, and the refractory rebels at Baltimore put down, and our forces from the West will pour into Washington by the line of the Potomac. The great question how to deal with our Southern foes may then be decided, and the battle-ground carried over the Potomac. But at this moment the nation's honor and safety demands our attention nearer home.

The People Will Not Wait.

Since the Davis rebellion has assumed its present threatening aspect, we have constantly urged the absolute necessity of the greatest promptness of action on the part of those who control the national campaign. We have based our urgent demands in this behalf chiefly on the ground that a decisive blow struck now, while the rebel forces are yet unorganized, will be the means of saving many thousands of lives, and will prevent the traitors from acquiring hereafter any strength by unity of action. Nor, in the pursuance of this course, have we given utterance simply to individual opinions. There is not a town or hamlet in any of the loyal States, which has not organized its military force, and asked, nay, entreated, that its active aid might be accepted in the support of the national flag.

Yet, even when it became clearly apparent that several of the States on which requisitions had been made, would refuse their quota of the force which the President's proclamation required, no steps were taken to make up the deficit from the thousands of eager patriots in this and other loyal States, whose hearts throbbed with the patriotic desire to face the common foe. Could the seven thousand Irishmen, who asked a place in the ranks of the Sixty-Ninth on the day of its departure, have been received and formed into regiments, they would have hurled themselves into the National Capital with a force which not a dozen intervening Marylands could check. But sluggish routine and cautious prudence rule the day, and the hammers that should be pounding rebel heads are driving nails in military barracks here, five hundred miles from the furthest Northern point which even the wildest rebels hope to reach.

Meantime the National Capital which should have been garrisoned a week ago, with a force that would make attack upon it an absurdity, is left with only a constable's guard, till a great thunder-cloud of war now hangs about it ready to burst with destructive fury on its head, before relief can possibly be sent.

Nor is this strengthening of the rebel forces the only or even the worst evil which results from our delay. A far more potent ally of the foe than all the vessels and forts and arms which they can capture or steal, or buy from traitors at our very doors, will soon be upon us in the burning heat, which annually drives from the South every white man who has not become, by original strength of constitution and subsequent habit, a perfect Salamander. As Summer comes on, the malarious fevers which its heat induces, will compel our troops to retire North. Nor can we doubt for a moment that in their retreat they would be followed by the foe, who would be only too glad to transfer the field of battle to our peaceful Northern homes.

This must never be. The President must direct the great national arm, which only awaits his command to deliver a blow that will end the war at once, by its crushing weight on the heads of those who have evoked its wrath—or that arm, fired with a public rage which will brook no control or guidance, will deal out in its blind wrath a destruction more terrible and complete than ever a people suffered before. The instincts of humanity will be forgotten, and that will prove a war of utter extermination, which the President has now the power to control and limit to the punishment of those whose crimes have given it birth.

Wanted—Gun-Boats!

And there are in New-York, Boston, Philadelphia and vicinity ten thousand skilled men, with tools and working drawings at hand, to make them. Gun-boats of all sizes, from 120 to 400 tons; corvettes, frigates, transports, everything, anything, are immediately demanded by the exigencies of the times. Why are they not demanded by Government? Up to yesterday afternoon the Government had invited no tenders, made no proposals, solicited no advice, and given no orders, not so much as for a donkey-engine, to either of the great engineering establishments of this City, nor, as it was believed, to those of Philadelphia.

No matter, with reference to impending danger, why the Government ships are being scuttled and disabled faster than they can be built. The remorseless fact is, that we must have as many guns afloat right away, at the mouths of Southern harbors, as all the artisans and founders of the Northern States can turn out, if this war is to be speedily and triumphantly closed, and this enemy subdued without the repeated repulse of our own forces and the risk of pirates among our shipping and along our unprotected seacoast.

A well ordered fleet should of course embrace many new, modern, fast, iron, screw ships-of-the-line, frigates and sloops. But because we cannot create them in ten days shall we have nothing? On the whole, there are no vessels so serviceable as gun-boats—a distributed fleet of heavy ordnance, too small to be easily hit, distracting the enemy's fire and attention, concentrating their own fire, dodging up creeks and over sand bars,—and if half of them are blown out of water, the other half are uninjured; while one well-planted shell in the bowels of a ship-of-the-line may send her hundred guns, crew and all, to Davy Jones in ten minutes. A man can stand up to a fair fight with an equal or a tiger, but when a swarm of bumble-bees attack him he had better strike his colors and run. Gun-boats for blockading service, and for cruising after pirates, should of course be fast sailers and eminently seaworthy—200 to 300 tons, though 100 ton boats would be far from useless. Large ships have their advantages, but anything we can soonest get under way, is infinitely better than nothing.

And here is the very great advantage we have—the wonderful facility with which we can turn out gun-boats in the large establishments of our seaboard cities. The first frigate cannot be put afloat in short of six months, while at least six 200 to 300-ton boats, to be taken right out of the merchant service, can be provided with engines and boilers for 8 to 10-knot, sailing and armed, in sixty days from this time, after which each of seven or eight large shops here and in Philadelphia can turn out two to three a month, iron hulls and all; so that while one frigate was building, we should have an armed and effective fleet of 75 to 100 gun-boats of all sizes.

The Novelty and the Morgan Works, of this City, together, are prepared to turn out eight first-class screw frigates every twelve months, in addition to which they could convert 300-ton ships into screw-steamers, with power for eight to ten knots, at the rate of five a month, after getting fairly started. In addition to which they could make the hulls of iron gun-boats of 150 tons at the rate of four to six per month. DELAMATER'S Works, the Neptune and the Fulton Works, are almost equal, together, to the Novelty and Morgan Works together, while in Philadelphia, the first-class establishments of J. P. MORRIS & Co., NEAFIE, LEVY & Co., and MERRICK & SONS, are each nearly equal to the largest New-York shops. Nor is this all.

The Corliss Steam-engine Company, of Providence, already have the tools, patterns and experience required for building, very rapidly, the very best class of gun-boats; the Boston shops and the Jersey City Locomotive Works could do a great deal of the same work at short notice, and WOODRUFF & BEACH, of Hartford, and other steam-engine builders, and all the locomotive builders at Paterson, Taunton and Philadelphia, and the immense machine-tool shops of SELLERS, and BEMENT & DOUGHERTY, of Philadelphia, and CARPENTER & PLASS, of New-York, could build the whole or parts of engines, while shops having better facilities for making iron hulls could devote all their force to that.

In these days of photographed machine drawings and accurate workmanship, it is by no means necessary to have all parts of one engine even made in the same shop or city. Chalking on the floor and the "rule of thumb" are not the fashion at present. It is by no means unprecedented, when a steam-engine or machine is wanted at short notice, to send drawings of the parts required all over town and out of town, and when collected by special express, all parts fit as if they had been made by the same hand on the same bench. And now, to-day, were the order from Government put into the hands of a few competent engineers—not Washington Navy-yard men, but engineers who do work and are personally responsible, the drawings might be duplicated and distributed, and a fleet of staunch sailing vessels now in dock furnished with ten-knot steam power, before this Government would know what to do with them.

HOW RUMORS GROW.—The gathering force and expanding qualities of rumor in these exciting times was well illustrated yesterday. The TIMES' correspondent having arrived from Washington, announced in our noon extra, yesterday, that he had good reason to believe that the Seventh Regiment had marched over to the Capital from Annapolis, during Monday night. Within an hour, our correspondent was quoted by name, as having stated to various parties that he saw the Regiment in question a few miles out from Washington. Of course, there was no foundation for this exaggerated statement.

IMPORTANT FROM VIRGINIA.

Governor Letcher the Willing Tool of Secession—Theft of Federal Property—Chivalric Exploits.

AFFAIRS AT THE GOSPORT NAVY-YARD.

Incidents Preceding the Destruction of the Vessels—Reinforcement of Fort Monroe—Poisoning the Massachusetts Volunteers, &c.

OUR RICHMOND CORRESPONDENCE.

RICHMOND, Va., Friday, April 19, 1861.

As I predicted, Gov. LETCHER became the willing instrument of the Revolutionists, so soon as he found that they had control of the State. The secession ordinance was passed on Wednesday, and on that same day Gov. LETCHER telegraphed to Norfolk, and had the vessels sunk in the mouth of the Elizabeth River, so as to retain the three United States men-of-war in the harbor, and prevent approaches by water to the Gosport Navy-yard, which is doomed to be taken. He also sent dispatches west to Charlotteville and Staunton, and ordered all the volunteers in Albemarle and Augusta Counties to proceed to Harper's Ferry and capture it! On the same day, he ordered the steamship Yorktown, owned in New-York, but lying then at her dock below Richmond, to be seized and held in behalf of Virginia. All this was done before the people knew that their Government had been changed,—and before, really, it had been changed, for the ordinance of secession has to be submitted to a vote of the people, before it is constitutionally and legally effective.

But that vote is the absurdest of forms and farces. The State is revolutionized, is in open war upon the Federal Government, and any citizens who should dare, to-day, to assert his opposition to secession, would be chased from the country or hanged. The people everywhere, following Gov. LETCHER'S bad example, are seizing and "confiscating" every piece of private property of Northern men, and every piece of Federal property that they can lay hands on.

Petersburgh, lying 22 miles south of Richmond, was the scene of great excitement last night. Petersburgh is the second city in the State in population and wealth. It contains 18,000 inhabitants—is a large tobacco mart, and works usually about 2,500 negroes in its tobacco factories. It is a furious secession town. Yesterday the Captain (OWEN) of a Maine ship (the Argo) was reported to have uttered words of strong attachment to the old Union, and expressed confidence in its powers. This was a crime not to be tolerated by the secession patriots of Petersburgh. A volunteer force was at once organized, who elected a Captain, and proceeded to City Point, the landing, some miles below Petersburgh, where the Argo was lying, and, joined with some Richmond forces marched aboard, in warlike array, and captured the vessel. The Captain was powerless, and had to submit. The entire crew of the Argo, eighteen seamen, all black, were taken off the ship, marched to Petersburgh, and lodged in jail. Petersburgh was wild with delight at this capture. The Petersburgh Express of this morning calls the capture a "daring exploit," and relates it as follows. The pathos will certainly affect you:

> "A brave little band of fifteen men from this city, headed by Col. BROCKETT, and a company of twenty men from Richmond, commanded by Capt. ALBERT AIKEN, of Henrico County, conceived the daring exploit of proceeding to City Point, and capturing the vessels stationed there that might hail from the North, and accordingly faithfully executed and carried out their concerted plan of action, yesterday. The first seizure made was that of the fine ship Argo, Capt. OWEN, from Bath, now fifteen days at the Point, waiting for a cargo of tobacco. She is a first-class ship of 1,078 tons, and is capable, with a little alteration and strengthening, of doing valuable service. Col. BROCKETT drew up his command in line, and marched aboard the vessel, and on making known his intentions to the Captain, expressed himself in an eloquent and feeling speech, which drew tears to the eyes of nearly all the brave hearts around him. No resistance being offered by the crew of the ship, he was allowed, after further explanation, to take entire command."

The delight that filled Petersburgh when its brave burghers heard of this bold exploit was wonderfully mixed and marred in an hour or two, by reports that got abroad, that these imprisoned seamen were all British subjects, that they had shipped at Liverpool, that the Argo had brought over a cargo of salt, and was just about receiving a load of tobacco stems for Bremen. The probability of having a British Consul "making a note" of this rude treatment of British subjects—for Her Majesty's Government makes no distinction of color—was obviously not a pleasant reflection to the soberer men of Petersburgh.

But the Secessionists had got a taste of plunder, and they could not relinquish the pursuit. The Petersburgh Express continues the lively chronicle as follows:

> "Immediately after the seizure of the Argo, the Company proceeded to a revenue cutter, now in the service of the United States Government, and took possession of her. She also is capable of doing much service, and when called into action will prove, undoubtedly, that she was a prize worth taking.
>
> But the noblest Roman of them all was yet to be taken. About 3 o'clock, the splendid steamship Jamestown, Capt. SKINNER, hove in sight, with her flags gaily floating in the breeze. Expectation was on tip-toe, and the excitement reached its climax, as she gracefully neared the wharf. But everything was kept secret; no intimation was given; not even a look from the large gathering on the landing, could have betrayed to any one on board the beautiful ship the reception that awaited her. At length, when she had been securely fastened, and while she was discharging her Petersburgh freight, new hands appeared upon her deck, and in as quick a time as it takes us to relate it, the strength of chains bound her yet more effectually, and now, beyond all hazard, she was safely fixed.
>
> Col. BROCKETT then informed Capt. SKINNER that he would be relieved of his command, as the Jamestown now belonged to the State of Virginia. Capt. S. demurred, and said he would put back to New-York, but was induced to forego this intention, as he was warned that he should not be allowed to leave the wharf. It was finally arranged, however, that the Jamestown should be allowed to proceed to Richmond in care of Col. BROCKETT and others who had aided him. She will be detained there until a proper disposal is made of her. Thus ended a work which will tell for good and evil, and which caused the most intense excitement in our midst it has been our fortune ever to witness. What the effect at the North will be, we leave the telegraph to communicate."

The two steamers Jamestown and Yorktown, built almost wholly by New-York capital for the convenience of the trade and travel of the Old Dominion, are, in the language of this morning's Richmond Dispatch, "confiscated."

The entire capital of the New-York and Virginia Steamship Company is $300,000. The Yorktown cost $160,000. She is a splendid steamer, of 1,250 tons burden. Of the capital stock of the Steamship Company, one-seventh is owned in Virginia, all the rest in New-York. In speaking of these naval achievements, that smack so strongly of buccaneering, the Dispatch adds:

> "It will soon be evident to our Northern neighbors (!) that they will have to clear out, bag and baggage from this part of the country. Like the ticketless passenger on the railroad, they will, ere long, be emptied by the wayside."

The citizens of New-York, not being aware at the time their ships sailed that they were at war with Virginia, must feel no little indignation at this action. I fear it will greatly intensify the heat of coming hostilities.

I endeavored to ascertain from some of the raving populace, who were sounding the glories of these achievements, on what principle the seizures were made, seeing that Virginia had not positively seceded, but only conditionally; and whether she had seceded or not, certainly she had issued no proclamation against the citizens and property of New-York or of Maine. The answer from some was, "If Virginia is not out she will be." Others said, "Gov. LETCHER thinks she is out." And still a further few, apparently ashamed of the bare-faced robbery, said they had heard that certain ammunition and arms purchased for Virginia had been stopped in New-York, and prevented from shipment, and this was in retaliation! I felt sure this was a poor fabrication, but it is put to-day in the Richmond papers, and everybody here is satisfled, and will die by the justice of the captures! What next? MONTICELLO.

OUR OLD POINT CORRESPONDENCE.

REINFORCEMENT OF FORT MONROE—MASSACHUSETTS VOLUNTEERS—DEATH IN THE FOURTH REGIMENT—THE POISONED LIQUOR—POSITION OF AFFAIRS AT NORFOLK.

OLD POINT COMFORT, Va., Saturday morning, April 20, 1861.

This morning, about 6 o'clock—a gloriously bright and beautiful morning it was—the steamer State of Maine hove up at the dock of Fort Monroe with the Fourth Regiment of Massachusetts Volunteers aboard. At 8 o'clock, Col PACKARD debarked his command, and marched them around to the southwest entrance to the fort, all other entrances being now closed, and the bridges across the moat cut off. The regiment was halted in ranks of twelve in front of the entrance. The wide gates swung back on their hinges, and at the word of command the companies fell into double column and marched into the renowned fortress, amidst the cheers of the soldiers who had crowded the esplanade to welcome their comrades in their country's defence.

The Fourth Regiment reached here in good health and spirits, save one casualty. They touched at New-York and lay there one night. While they were at anchor, a number of small junketing boats came around the ship, selling nick-nacks and smuggling bottles of whisky aboard. The soldiers were warned by the police, it is said, not to buy any liquor from these boats, as they might meet with treachery. But the warning was unheeded in part. Several bottles of whisky were bought and the contents drank. Some time afterwards, several who had drank from one of the bottles were taken violently sick, but receiving prompt assistance from the Surgeon, were relieved. One poor young fellow was not so fortunate. He was heard to groan a great deal in his bunk during the night, but did not ask for assistance, and none was proffered. When daylight came he was found in a dying condition, and soon expired. The bottle from which he had drank was examined and a white sediment found in the bottom, which the Surgeon pronounced poison. It is supposed that he was the last who drank from the bottle and that he got a stronger and a fatal portion of the deadly drug. The name of the unfortunate young man was BELLOWS; and he was from Easton, Mass. His remains were brought here. I just now stood a sole mourner by the young stranger's coffin as it lay on the dock. The body will be honorably buried here by his brothers in arms.

The approach to Old Point by the State of Maine was attended with lively interest to those on board. A telegraphic dispatch at New-York warned them that they would be waylaid by armed steamers from Norfolk or the Chesapeake Bay, and their steamer sunk. They kept a sharp watch on board all night. Ten men were detailed from each company, making a squad of ninety, who were put under command of Capt. SHEPHERD, of Foxboro. With loaded rifles they paced the deck all night. A brass cannon that was on board was also shotted, and got in position for service. If an enemy had been met, the State of Maine would not have been unprepared for action. A steamer was seen lying off the mouth of the harbor, but she made no demonstration, and the State of Maine arrived unmolested.

But considerable anxiety was expressed for the S. B. Spaulding, that was known to be near at hand with another regiment of Massachusetts Volunteers. It was regarded as almost certain that she would be assailed. Every one was intent, all morning, perusing the horizon seaward, watching for the first stain of smoke against the clear sky, and expecting perchance to be witnesses of a running sea-fight. About 10 o'clock, a faint trace of smoke was seen in the distance. It grew larger rapidly, and soon the steamer herself appeared to view. Shortly after 11 o'clock, the Spaulding made fast to the dock, and three thundering cheers from the Fourth Regiment, now assembled on the esplanade to see them land, welcomed their fellow-countrymen to their quarters. And three cheers equally hearty, from the deck of the Spaulding, answered back the greeting. In about an hour this other Regiment (the Third, Col. WARDROP commanding,) debarked and was marched into the Fort. The gates closed, and Fortress Monroe is impregnable. There were about three hundred and twenty men in garrison before these arrivals to-day. These two Massachusetts Regiments add nearly one thousand, so that there are now fully thirteen hundred fighting men within.

All communications with civilians at Fort Monroe was cut off three days ago. The strictest watch within, and surveillance without, is observed. For several days the garrison has been in active employment, removing heavy guns and mortars, shot and shell, from the yard outside to the interior. The openings of the casemates give evidence of energetic work within. No doubt all the guns needed for any emergency of defence will soon be in position. It requires about three thousand men to garrison Fort Monroe fully; but the number now here can hold it against all comers.

The State of Maine is ready to leave, but there were some apprehensions from the hostile vessels reported to be hovering below to intercept her. Now that she is empty of soldiers, having only the crew and officers aboard, she would not be at all a formidable enemy, and Virginia has shown her penchant for Northern steamships.

We are all in deep suspense here, but now that these troops have arrived, it is not supposed that any immediate attack will be made on Fort Monroe. We are expecting hourly, however, to hear of a fight at Portsmouth for the Gosport Navy-yard. Yesterday afternoon Virginians from the interior had commenced arriving at Norfolk, and the excitement at Norfolk and Portsmouth was rising hourly.

The Navy-yard was defenceless of itself. It is surrounded by a high brick wall, it has an area of perhaps fifty acres, and there are only about twenty-five watchmen and about sixty marines within. But the men-of-war Cumberland and Pennsylvania are lying in the harbor broadside to the Navy-yard. Each ship has a terrible armament, and about six hundred men between them. If they were to open fire they could raze the Navy-yard on the one side and Norfolk on the other. The only way to begin operations is, therefore, to board and take the ships, if they cannot be had by treachery. The safest move will be tried first. After that, the attempt to board and take the Pennsylvania will be the first step. This enormous vessel is worthless for service. She is lying imbedded in mud, and is immovable. But she has immense and valuable stores in her, it is said. It is an object on the part of her assailants to secure those munitions of war.

Fort Monroe is eighteen miles below Norfolk and Portsmouth. And with the channel above impeded by the sunken vessels, there is not much chance for this garrison to succor the war vessels and Navy Yard above. The Merrimac is unarmed and undergoing repairs. The Cumberland is the only first-class fighting ship in the harbor above. She can easily shift her position and elude the shots of sand batteries; but unless the sunken vessels can be removed by submarine batteries, she must, in the end, fall into the hands of her enemies. YORK.

P. S.—The State of Maine, retaining on board the [illegible] gun, and making some other preparations for [illegible], has put to sea, and will steam direct to Fall River, if she has not "sealed orders" to enter some nearer harbor and bring down to these waters another regiment of men. I think she will be needed, for, now that the railroads are broken up through Maryland, you can only reach Washington by water. And that place must be defended or it will be seized in a week. YORK.

OLD POINT COMFORT, Va., Saturday afternoon, April 20, 1861.

We are about to have some stirring times here. Some hours since, the U. S. steamer Pawnee, which has been at Washington, came down the Roads and dropped her anchor in front of Fort Monroe. A few minutes ago, Commodore PAULDING, Capt. WILKES and several other officers of the Navy approached the dock, in one of the steamer's small boats, from a row in the waters above. A short consultation was had with the Captain and owner of the steamer Spaulding. The Spaulding had brought a heavy lot of provisions hither for the Government, as well as the Third Regiment of Massachusetts Volunteers. She was about discharging the last of her freight, when the Naval officers arrived and the consultation with her owners was held. I was on the dock observing the movements around me, and directly saw the Commodore leave the Captain and owner of the Paulding, and held a brief interview with Col. DIMICK, in command of Fort Monroe, and Col. WALDRUP, of the Third Massachusetts Volunteers. The Commodore soon left them and returned with an air of triumph to his little boat, and, attended by his brother officers, was pulled back to the Pawnee. Col. WALDRUP hastened back to Fort Monroe in high glee, saying he was "under orders," and a new energy was visible in clearing the Pawnee for service.

What does all this mean? Simply this, as I interpreted it: Com. PAULDING has been visiting and sounding about the sunken ships in the mouth of Elizabeth River, and is satisfied that he can bring the Cumberland and Germantown out from the Navy-yard in safety. He has chartered the Paulding to go up to-night, and tow them out, and has obtained the services of Col. WARDRUP and a hundred, or perhaps two or three hundred, of his men, to accompany the Paulding, and aid the expedition.

Am I not right? We shall see. Perhaps you will know before this reaches you. At all events, I shall cherish my present belief until better informed; and if the adventure takes place, I hope the Paulding may have on board, when she brings out the Cumberland and Germantown, your correspondent. YORK.

The Departure of the Varina—Note from Com. Breese.

The following note from Com. BREESE corrects a report published in the TIMES of yesterday. We give it a place very cheerfully:

NAVY-YARD, NEW-YORK, Wednesday, April 24, 1861.

To the Editor of the New York Times:

I have seen an article in your paper, of this morning, which reflects most unjustly and unnecessarily on the honor and reputation of the Commander of the surveying vessel Varina, now lying at this yard, and preparing for a completion of the survey of the North River. He did not quietly, or without my knowledge, make preparations clandestinely to leave the yard, but made his orders and intentions known to me. I felt it my duty, however, during his brief absence, in view of the untoward shape of affairs, to order that she and her consort should be detained, and the men sent on board the Receiving Ship. They are again on board their respective vessels, but in all probability will be discharged, and surveying, for the present, discontinued. No doubt of the honor and loyalty of the Commanders of these vessels governed me in my action.

This statement, I think, is due to these gentlemen, and I trust you will give it place in your journal.

Very respectfully yours,
SAMUEL L. BREESE, Commandant.

Duty of Naval Officers—Opinion of one of them.

To the Editor of the New-York Times:

I have read with deep regret, that the occasion should call it forth, but, at the same time, with a full indorsement of the sentiments it contains, an article in your issue of yesterday entitled "Show your colors." It appears to me that the time has come when a straight line should be drawn between those who are ready and willing to sink or swim with the ship and those who feel disposed to walk ashore. I should suppose that every true sailor, in the emergency which is upon us would recall to his mind the dying words of the gallant LAWRENCE, "Don't give up the ship," and the sublime order issued by the immortal NELSON, at the commencement of the battle of Trafalgar, "England expects that every man will do his duty." The People now expect that every man of us will do his duty, and if, in this moment of its sore trial and peril, our good old craft cannot look to those whom she has sheltered from boyhood, who have been educated for the purpose of taking care of her in all winds and weathers, and who owe whatever of position they may hold to the honor of having been numbered amongst her crew, with a perfect feeling of trust and confidence, why, the sooner the list is weeded out the better. I believe the majority of the officers of the Navy are true to their flag. I know many noble fellows from the South who take the only true view of this matter, who know no allegiance but that they owe the Government, and who recognize the call of no State arrayed in arms against our common country; but there has been such frequent allusion to the question of our loyalty, that I think a response is necessary from one of our number, however humble his station, and that it is but fair to the "true blues," we should know where we stand, and that every one should be made to "show his colors."

I can make great allowance for the man who, with sincere conviction, feels unable to act against his own section of the country, and though I may think he takes a narrow view of his duties and responsibilities, yet, if he feels compelled to quit his post, he takes with him into his retirement my regrets at his loss; but the man who instantly turns round to fight against the flag that has floated over him in every sea and clime is a "traitor," and deserves to be shot.

I trust that when this sad business is settled—as it will be some day or other—the Government will remember those who have been true and those who have been false; and that the People will see to it that loyal officers are not given the pain and mortification of finding replaced in their ranks those who, when the ship was amongst the breakers, chose to desert and leave her to her fate.

I. M. WAINWRIGHT, Lieut. U. S. Navy.

THE GREAT BANK ROBBERY.

HERRING'S SAFE

FOILS THE BURGLARS

AND PRESERVES

$500,000.

NEW-YORK, March 27, 1861.

Messrs. Herring & Co., No. 251 Broadway

GENTLEMEN: You have already been well informed, through the columns of the daily papers, of the desperate attempt made upon our Money Vault, and the Fire and Burglar proof Safe made by you for our Bank a few years ago. Although our vault was very strongly built, and provided with heavy Doors and the best of Locks the attempt upon the Vault was successful.

The rogues succeeded in undermining the Vault by digging a tunnel some seventy feet long under the adjoining building, and terminating at the base of the Vault itself. Here they commenced their operations upon a large scale, and, after removing the front part of the heavy stone foundation, which was strongly laid in cement, they reached the large flag-stone which formed the floor of the Vault. This stone was broken by means of a Jack-screw of great power, and the interior of the Vault thus reached.

Your Safe now became the great point of attack, and bravely did it resist every effort, holding secure its entire trust (property amounting to $500,000) against all the tools and ingenuity of the burglars.

The first great aim seemed to be to drill into the safe, but although some thirty holes were made in the outer casing, the hardened iron forming the centre lining turned the point of every tool. Disappointed here, they now attempted to dissect the Safe, and endeavored to force the strong framework apart. After removing one bar, and partially cutting off another, they gave this up, and all further operations proved unavailing. Our confidence in your safe has been reassured, and we would further add, for the benefit of the public and to your credit, that had they even succeeded in getting through the outer casing or shell of the Safe, which they did not do, that three more thicknesses of metal still remained, and each of these, in our opinion, would have given them more trouble than the single one by which they were so completely foiled.

When the great resources of these burglars are considered, the opportunity to work from Saturday night to Monday morning, the great number of the best kind of tools in their possession, and the skill and ingenuity displayed, we have reason to feel proud of your Safe.

We wish you to send the large Safe purchased by us at your store, to our new Banking House in Greenwich-st., and as soon as we get moved you shall have the old one as a trophy.

S. VAN DUZER,
President N. Y. Exchange Bank.

The public are invited to call and see the above Safe, which is now on exhibition at our store.

PATRIOTIC RELICS.—KNOX, the popular hatter, at the corner of Broadway and Fulton-street, has stolen a patriotic march upon his brethren in trade. He has on exhibition in his window, a piece of the flag staff of Fort Sumter, a piece of the flag, and one of the broken cannon balls fired against it. These are as interesting and sacred to the eyes of the crowd which throng there, as the relics of the saints were in those of the people of the Middle Ages.

DR. GIFFORD'S HOMŒOPATHIC BILIOUS PILLS,
No. 34.

DIRECTIONS FOR USING:

These Pills, like all pure Homœopathic remedies, produce no pain, sickness of stomach, or any uneasiness whatever, but cure disease by acting directly upon the organs affected, thereby gently and promptly restoring them to the normal condition, and their effect is perceptible only as they commence to cure, nor is any other effect ever desirable than an immediate restoration of the system to a perfect condition of health.

They are prepared with special reference to the various BILIOUS DERANGEMENTS, so well known in all communities; INACTIVE LIVER, CONSTIPATION, DEPRAVED APPETITE, LOWNESS OF SPIRITS, JAUNDICE, &c. Two Pills, night and morning, will generally remove all difficulties of this kind in a few days—continue, however, until cured.

THE INDEPENDENT,

For this week makes the following announcement:

THE NEWS OF THE DAY

The universal desire to hear and read the news, now that the news of every day is so important and exciting, has induced us to make The Independent henceforth, a faithful and complete chronicler of the News of the Day. Many of our subscribers write to us: "We take no other paper; we want the current news; will you give it to us in your sheet?" Our reply is—Yes, we will. Our columns, after this, will bear record of all the important events of the day—and this record will be so complete and so well-digested as to preclude any necessity on the part of our country friends for looking to any other newspaper than The Independent, for a clear and ample statement of every important fact of history, as it occurs from week to week. And now that this journal has arrived at so high and gratifying a circulation, that even in a time when business is so generally suspended, there still continues to be a pressure of advertising upon our columns, we have to request anew of our advertising friends, that they will send us their favors as early in the week, as possible, in order that, towards the day of going to press, our printers may be busy only with the latest news.

STATE OF NEW-YORK, HEAD-QUARTERS—DEPOT OF VOLUNTEERS, AND ADJUTANT-QUARTERMASTER'S DEPARTMENT—DIVISION ARMORY, CORNER WHITE AND ELM STS.

THE PROVISIONS OF THE FOLLOWING Sections of General Orders No. 13, from General Head-quarters, will be observed:

SECTION III. The force volunteering under the provisions of the said act will be enrolled for the term of two years, unless sooner discharged.

IV. Privates and non-commissioned officers below the age of 18 years, or above the age of 45 years, will not be enrolled as volunteers, nor will any person of any age who is not "in physical strength and vigor."

V. Company rolls, in the form prescribed by the Adjutant-General, (who upon application will furnish the same,) must be signed by those volunteering, who shall indicate upon these rolls the names of the persons the shall desire to be commissioned as captains, lieutenants and ensigns of their respective companies. The persons thus indicated for the several company offices will, in like manner, specify upon the same rolls the names of the persons as field-officers under whom they desire to serve. Whenever any such roll shall have been signed by at least thirty-two persons, and not more than seventy seven, inclusive of the indicated commissioned officers of the company, it shall be transmitted to the Adjutant-General, who, upon its approval by the Commander-in-Chief, will direct some proper officer to inspect the company making the return, and to preside at an election, to be determined by written ballot, for the choice of persons to fill the offices of captain, lieutenant, ensign, four sergeants and four corporals. Upon the return of such inspection and election, the Adjutant-General will transmit to the officers so elected their commissions and warrants, with a notification that the company has been accepted into the service of the State, pursuant to the above-mentioned act, and will also direct the commandant of the company to report himself and his command to such Brigadier-General as he may designate in charge of a dépôt of volunteers.

VI. Upon the assembling at any designated dépôt, of six or more companies, thus organized, who shall have indicated the same persons as their choice for the field officers of the regiment to which they desire to be attached, the Brigadier-General in charge will direct the assembling of their commissioned officers for an election, at which he shall preside, to determine, by written ballot, the choice of persons to fill such field-offices. Should it so happen that companies assembled at any dépôt, without having indicated a preference for their field-officers, on the reporting of at least six of such companies, the Brigadier-General in charge will, in like manner, direct the assembling of their commissioned officers for an election to fill the field-offices of such regiment, and make return of these elections to the Adjutant-General, for the commissions of the officers elected, who will at once be assigned to their respective regiments.

Commandants of Companies which have been organized and accepted, according to the foregoing provisions of General Orders, will report themselves forthwith, with a copy of their company rolls and the commissions of their Officers.

EQUIPMENTS FOR THE TROOPS.—THE Commissaries should see that the equipments are good and lasting; this is especially important with the tin-ware and cutlery, as they cannot be repaired. Brigadier Major S. W. Smith has furnished Messrs. BALDWIN & JOHNSTON, of No. 63 Maiden-lane, with a pattern such as is used by the United States Troops, of a heavy tin plate, with a cup to form a cover, to hold rations, and a heavy style of iron fork and spoon that cannot fail to be durable, and which costs but a trifle more than the cheap trash. B.

Furnished at short notice and in any quantity required.

Samples can be sent by express.

ATTENTION COMPANY!—THOUSANDS ARE now leaving our midst to fight under the good old "Stars and Stripes," who absolutely require TRUSSES. We are therefore induced to reduce the price of our PATENT LEVER TRUSSES 25 per cent. to Volunteers who require them. These Trusses are now used in the French and British Armies with great satisfaction. They are light, durable and easy. They can be worn lying down as well as standing. GREGORY & CO., sole proprietors of "White's Patent Lever Trusses," No. 25 Bond-st., New-York.

TO ARMS, TO ARMS.—GOOD MEN WANTED for the First Regiment California Volunteers. The rolls of Company F, Capt. Polhemus, (of the Mexican War,) is now open at the Westchester House, corner of Bowery and Broome. Hurry up.

HEAD-QUARTERS OF THE NEW-YORK MEDICAL ASSOCIATION FOR THE SUPPLY OF LINT, BANDAGES, ETC., TO THE ARMY, No. 744 BROADWAY, CORNER OF ASTOR-PLACE.

Persons desirous of contributing means or material to supply our Army with the needful surgical appliances for hospital use, are respectfully informed that the rooms of the association will be made the central dépôt for the reception and distribution of these appliances. Contributions of the following articles are earnestly solicited.

1. New unbleached muslin for bandages or ready-made bandages, prepared according to the following directions. Width—two, three and four inches. Length, six yards. The two and three inch widths to be supplied in equal proportions. The four-inch in one-half the quantity—they should be rolled as tightly as possible and without selvedge.

2. Old linen and cotton cloth, scraped and raveled lint.

3. Old blankets for pads and cushions, fine flax and tow, sponges and cotton batting.

4. Adhesive plaster, oiled silk, oiled muslin, and India rubber cloth.

5. Bookbinders' board for splints.

6. Saddler's silk for ligatures, wax, pins, and small pin-cushions.

Contributions in money may be made to Jacob Harsen, M. D., Treasurer, or to the Assistant-Secretary, John W. Greene, M. D., at the rooms of the Association.

A record will be kept, and due acknowledgement made through the Press of all offerings.

Members of the Executive Committee will be in attendance from 10 A. M. to 3 o'clock P. M., daily, to give all the information and instruction that may be desired relative to the articles needed, and the modes of preparing them, or if requested will meet the ladies at their homes or societies for this purpose. By order of the Executive Committee.

ARMY AND NAVAL MEDICINE CHESTS.—Dr. THOMAS RITTER, No. 164 Cherry-st., for twenty years has made it his special business to furnish medicine chests and surgical instruments. During this period he has supplied more than twenty thousand chests. He keeps a large stock on hand, and is, therefore, able to furnish everything in his line at the shortest notice. His Medical Manual, of 150 pages, which accompanies the medicine chests, is the most popular book in the English language—more than twenty-one thousand having been sold.

Dr. RITTER, within a few days, furnished Gov. Sprague's Rhode Island Regiment, the steamers Harriet Lane, Atlantic and Baltic.

TO ARMS! TO ARMS!!

At a large and enthusiastic meeting of the merchants and merchants' clerks of this City, held at the Astor House last evening, a meeting was organized, which instituted proceedings for the immediate enrollment of a "HOME GUARD," on an extended scale, to be composed of 20,000 and upwards of able-bodied men, who are to be thoroughly disciplined in military tactics preparatory to the full protection of the interests of this great City in the absence of our regular military.

An adjourned meeting of the Committee of Twenty-five only will meet at the Astor House, Room No. 41, THIS AFTERNOON at 4 P. M. By order of CHAUNCEY SHAFFER, Chairman.

No mother who has ever tried Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup for Children will ever consent to let her child pass through the distressing and critical period of teething without the aid of this invaluable preparation. If life and health can be estimated by dollars and cents, it is worth its weight in gold.

Millions of bottles are sold every year in the United States. It is an old and well-tried remedy.

PRICE ONLY 25 CENTS A BOTTLE.

None genuine unless the fac simile of CURTIS & PERKINS, New-York, is on the outside wrapper.

Sold by Druggists throughout the world.

HIGHLY IMPORTANT TO MOTHERS.

MRS. WINSLOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP is the only thing that you can rely upon to GIVE REST TO YOURSELF, AND RELIEF AND HELP TO YOUR INFANT.

MRS. WINSLOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP has been the means of restoring the drooping spirits of many mothers.

Physicians order and use it wherever its magical effects have been witnessed.

During the thirty years of unprecedented and increasing popularity of Mrs. WINSLOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP, innumerable "CORDIALS" and other nostrums, prepared by pretended M. D.'s, have sprung up and lived but a mushroom existence, while the SOOTHING SYRUP has been constantly increasing in popularity and become a household word, and thousands of mothers thank Mrs. WINSLOW for the health of their children by the use of her invaluable article.

When the present race of "Cordials" shall have followed in the footsteps of their "illustrious predecessors," Mrs. WINSLOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP will continue to be a popular favorite and a blessing to every mother.

CEPHALIC PILLS,
CURE SICK HEADACHE!
CEPHALIC PILLS,
CURE NERVOUS HEADACHE!
CEPHALIC PILLS,
CURE ALL KINDS OF HEADACHE!

By the use of these Pills the periodic attacks of Nervous or Sick Headache may be prevented; and if taken at the commencement of an attack immediate relief from pain and sickness will be obtained.

They seldom fail in removing the Nausea and Headache to which females are so subject.

They act gently upon the bowels—removing Costiveness.

For Literary Men, Students, Delicate Females, and all persons of sedentary habits, they are valuable as a Laxative, improving the appetite, giving tone and vigor to the digestive organs, and restoring the natural elasticity and strength of the whole system.

The CEPHALIC PILLS are the result of long investigation and carefully conducted experiments, having been in use many years, during which time they have prevented and relieved a vast amount of pain and suffering from Headache, whether originating in the nervous system, or from a deranged state of the stomach.

They are entirely vegetable in their composition, and may be taken at all times with perfect safety without making any change of diet, and the absence of any disagreeable taste renders it easy to administer them to children.

Mr. SPALDING,
Sir:

Not long since I sent to you for a box of Cephalic Pills for the cure of the Nervous Headache and Costiveness, and received the same, and they had so good an effect that I was induced to send for more.

Please send by return mail. Direct to
A. R. WHEELER,
Ypsilanti, Mich.

From the Examiner, Norfolk, Va.

Cephalic Pills accomplish the object for which they were made, viz.: Cure of Headache in all its forms.

From the Examiner, Norfolk, Va.

They have been tested in more than a thousand cases with entire success.

From the Democrat, St. Cloud, Minn.

If you are, or have been troubled with the Headache, send for a box (Cephalic Pills,) so that you may have them in case of an attack.

From the Advertiser, Providence, R. I.

The Cephalic Pills are said to be a remarkably effectual remedy for the Headache, and one of the very best for that very frequent complaint which has ever been discovered.

From the Western Railroad Gazette, Chicago, Ill.

We heartily indorse Mr. Spalding and his unrivaled Cephalic Pills.

From the Kanawha Valley Star, Kanawha, Va.

We are sure that persons suffering with the Headache, who try them, will stick to them.

From the Southern Path-Finder, New-Orleans, La.

Try them! you that are afflicted, and we are sure that your testimony can be added to the already numerous list that has received benefits that no other medicine can produce.

From the St. Louis Democrat.

The immense demand for the article, (Cephalic Pills,) is rapidly increasing.

From the Gazette, Davenport, Iowa.

Mr. Spalding would not connect his name with an article he did not know to possess real merit.

From the Advertiser, Providence, R. I.

The testimony in their favor is strong, from the most respectable quarters.

From the Daily News, Newport, R. I.

Cephalic Pills are taking the place of all kinds.

From the Commercial Bulletin, Boston, Mass.

Said to be efficacious for the Headache.

From the Commercial, Cincinnati, Ohio.

Suffering humanity can now be relieved.

NO MORE DISORDERS OF THE SKIN.
The PILLS OF DR. CAZENAVE, Chief Physician of the Hospital of St. Louis, in Paris, Professor to the Faculty of Medicine, and Knight of the Legion of Honor.
These Pills, which the celebrated Prof. Cazenave has, in the interest of humanity, allowed to be generally made known, are the same which he has prescribed during the last thirty years among his patients, and employed in the wards of the Hospital of St. Louis, and which, together with his various works on the affections and Disorders of the Skin, have contributed to establish his reputation so universally acknowledged. They cure very rapidly, and without danger, the ringworm, pimples, the itch, eruption of the skin, tee hing, the tetters, prurigo or pruritus, psoriasis and leprosy, mentegre elephantiasis or swelling of the skin, &c., &c., and all other maladies of the skin.
Principal dépôt at Paris, in the Pharmacy of Messrs. Grimault & Co., No. 7 rue de la Feuillade; and in New-York, at Messrs. Gaudelet & Gouré's, No. 32 Platt-st.

DR. COX, AGENT FOR THE JAPAN SECRET OR FEMALE FRIEND. A most important charm to females for removing obstructions and producing monthly regulations without any inconvenience to the patient. This medicinal secret was the first discovered, prepared and administered by a very celebrated physician in Jeddo from a plant grown in Japan, and not found elsewhere, and every patient in Dr. Cox's practice, since his agency, has produced its charms. Price of the Japan Secret $3 a package, sent to any address. Caution! Married ladies are expressly requested not to use the remedy without consulting Dr. A. B. Cox personally or by letter. Ladies desiring to consult, a short interview is only necessary to acquire his mode of treatment. Consultation free. Ladies will be received at his rooms without any interruption from other patients. Dr. A. B. COX, No. 77 West Houston-st., N. Y.

IMPORTANT TO THE MARRIED, AND THOSE ABOUT TO BE MARRIED.—Dr. A. M. MAURICEAU, Professor of Diseases of Women, has just published the 100th edition of the valuable book, entitled "THE MARRIED WOMAN'S PRIVATE MEDICAL COMPANION," strictly intended for those whose health or circumstances forbid a too rapid increase of family. Price, $1. Sold at his office, No. 129 Liberty st., New-York; or can be sent by mail, free of postage, to any part of the United States and Canada, by inclosing $1 and addressing Box No. 1,224 New-York City. For sale at No. 1 Vesey-st., (Astor House,) and No. 10 Ann-st.

SOMETHING FOR EVERY LADY.—DR. WARD'S great Benefactor, the greatest periodical remedy ever discovered. Infallible for the immediate removal of obstruction. Office No. 12 Laight-st., corner Canal, where Dr. WARD is consulted confidentially day or evening.

CONSULT DR. WARD, NO. 12 LAIGHT-st., corner Canal-st.—Dr. WARD'S Unfortunate's Friend and other great remedies are the unfailing reliance. Dr. WARD'S Balm Gilead cures impotence, nervous disorders, spermatorrhœa. No interruption to business by his treatment. Open till 10 P. M.

CATARRH.—THE VICTIMS OF THIS MALADY must remember that the only positive cure for it is prepared by Dr. GOODALE, and to be had, with directions for using at No. 612 Broadway, New-York.

HUNDREDS OF THE UNFORTUNATE are disappointed of a cure by not calling on Dr. HUNTER at first. The Hunterian Dispensary, No. 3 Division-st., New-York City, established in 1834, for the Preservation of Human Life. PRIVATE CONSULTATION.—Dr. Hunter has for thirty years confined his attention to diseases of a certain class, in which he has treated not less than fifty thousand cases, without an instance of failure. His great remedy, HUNTER'S RED DROP, cures certain diseases when regular treatment and all other remedies fail; cures without dieting or restriction in the habits of the patient; cures without the disgusting or sickening effects of all other remedies; cures, in new cases, in less than six hours. It roots out the poisonous taint the blood is sure to absorb, unless this remedy is used. It is $1 a vial, and cannot be obtained genuine anywhere but at the old office, No. 3 Division-st. Book for nothing, that treats of the evil effects of early abuse and indulgence; is embellished with elaborate colored engravings, portraying every feature and phase of disease; exposes the fallacy of the ordinary modes adopted for the cure of local as well as hereditary mal-dies, and gives the only safe and infallible remedy for expunging every trace of the virus from the system.

Observe the statements. Physicians say Consumption is hereditary. Do not misconstrue their meaning; it has been transmitted to your children; you are to blame for excessive indulgences; it will be made evident to you at that critical age when the system undergoes a change, from 15 to 25, requiring healthy constitutions, and to yourselves from 39 to 50, when another change is manifest. Being aware of the cause of your sufferings—none will confess. The family physician yourselves may advise. Punish, aye, even tie the hands; the desire and the disease still exist. Visit our

NEWS OF THE WAR.

was denied them, for prudential reasons. The following order has been issued:

It being deemed necessary for the safety and protection of the city, that no steamboat be permitted to leave our harbor without the sanction of the city authorities, I hereby, by authority of the Mayor and Board of Police, direct that no steamboat shall leave the harbor without my permit.

I. R. TRIMBLE, Commanding.

HIGHLY IMPORTANT REPORT.

A. H. Stephens at Richmond—Jeff. Davis to be there Soon.

HAVRE DE GRACE, Wednesday, April 24.

The Baltimore Sun and Exchange arrived here at 5 o'clock this evening, having been detained by a storm. They contain the following item of news:

Gen. TRIMBLE had issued an order, stating that no absolute restrictions would be placed on steamship travel, but no persons will be allowed to leave the city without permits. Every one must exercise their own judgment as to leaving the city by private conveyance, as personal safety may be endangered.

Two thousand stadd of arms had arrived from Harper's Ferry.

Supplies of pork, flour and provisions for New-York have been stopped. Several cart-loads of hinges from Providence, R. I., to Baltimore, had been allowed to pass.

Numerous seizures of arms and powder are recorded.

Eight hundred kegs of powder consigned to FOLEY BROTHERS, Baltimore, from New-York, had been handed over.

The passenger train from the Camden station left for Washington on Tuesday afternoon. When nearing the Relay House, they were informed that a train from Washington had been taken possession of near Annapolis-junction, and been impressed into the Government service, it was supposed, for the purpose of carrying troops from the junction to Annapolis. The conductor then turned back.

For the election in Baltimore there had been no other ticket but the "Southern Rights" nominated.

It was thought that the navigation of the Chesapeake and Ohio Canal would be stopped, on account of the apprehension that cargoes would be seized.

The Washington train on the main stem of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad was running regularly yesterday, via Clevelend and Pittsburgh.

The light boats on the Potomac River were fired by Virginians, and consumed, in order to prevent Government vessels from carrying troops to Washington.

Heavy guns were heard the same morning in the vicinity of the White House, and the supposition was that some transport steamer had been fired into.

The mails between Washington and Annapolis had been stopped. The mails from Richmond had been detained by Government.

A messenger, late last evening from Anapolis junction, brings intelligence that 100 troops had arrived from Washington, and were stationed at the junction.

The road from Washington to Annapolis was in possession of the Federal troops, and the Annapolis road under guard. The road was but little damaged, and a train of cars passed over it yesterday. The rails, which had been removed from several places, had been easily replaced.

Military were dispatched from Baltimore, late last night, to proceed to the Relay House for the purpose of protecting the viaduct at that point. They took several pieces of artillery with them.

The Baltimore Sun makes humor of the special dispatches to the Northern papers about the shelling of Baltimore. It says that although JEFF. DAVIS is not at Richmond, he would be there in a few days with an advance guard of 5,000 Carolinians, and would rapidly reinforce, having ordered an enrolment of 30,000 men.

A BATCH OF CONTRADICTORY REPORTS.

A gentleman just arrived in this City from Washington, having traveled from Baltimore in company with a gentleman direct from Richmond, assures us most positively that neither JEFF. DAVIS or Gen. BEAUREGARD had yet made their appearance in the latter city. The people were expecting both dignitaries, who, they said, were to lead them to the Capital.

A gentleman who left Montgomery on Saturday reports JEFFERSON DAVIS there, and that there were no unusual warlike preparations.

On the other hand, a gentleman reached this City last evening, who has come through Virginia, who states positively that JEFF. DAVIS was in his company, and that he is in Richmond at present.

IMPORTANT FROM FORT MONROE.

VIRGINIANS CONCENTRATING AT NORFOLK

RUMORED PROJECT TO STORM THE FORT.

BOSTON, Wednesday, April 24.

The steamer S. R. Spaulding arrived this morning.

Capt. HOWES reports that he arrived at Fortress Monroe at 11 o'clock Saturday forenoon. There were 800 regulars in the Fort. The State of Maine, with the Fourth Regiment, arrived soon after. The troops were transferred to the United States sloop-of-war Pawnee, and dispatched to Norfolk to aid in the demolition of the Navy-yard. Commodore PAULDING had just returned from Washington, and expressed himself to Capt. HOWES in a determined manner relative to obeying his instructions. The Pawnee left Fortress Monroe Saturday night. The troops were in good spirits, all well, and eager to be at their post of duty.

It was reported that 5,000 Virginia troops were about Norfolk, and more were arriving. Capt. HOWES reports that the Virginians talk of storming Fortress Monroe, as that is the only possible way of taking it. That, however, will be no easy matter, as the fort, though large, is surrounded by a canal 36 feet wide, with 8 feet of water at low tide. The land approach is a narrow neck about 100 feet wide. The Government had given notification to the residents in the vicinity of impending dangers, and they were hastening away. The Virginians think the fort can be taken, but calculate upon a great loss of life.

The S. R. Spaulding, after leaving her troops, proceeded to Baltimore to take a return cargo, but did not come to her wharf. The Captain was informed that 200 men had been under arms all night to seize the steamer. There had been no reinforcement of Fort McHenry up to his leaving on Sunday. There were about 100 regulars in Fort McHenry.

On his return the frigate Constitution was being towed into the stream by a tug.

Below Annapolis, met the steamer Boston with a large body of troops on board, bound up the Bay.

The Virginians were erecting batteries at Stowell's Point, opposite Fort Monroe, and overlooking Hampton Roads.

Capt. HOWES reports the Light-house at Cape Henry not lighted at 4 A. M., on the morning of the 22d.

MILITARY AND NAVAL INTELLIGENCE.

A mass meeting of laborers was held yesterday in the Brooklyn Navy-yard, for the purpose of affording the Commandant an opportunity of informing the workmen that such of them as chose to volunteer for service would receive some pocket-money from the Paymaster.

The Huntsville, another steamer chartered by the Government to augment the blockading fleet, arrived at the Navy-yard yesterday, and workmen commenced on her immediately. The Monticello is being rapidly fitted out. She was ordered off yesterday, but it was impossible to get her ready to leave at the hour ordered.

The Savannah and Wabash will be finished in a few days. Yesterday grape and canister, in large quantities, were put on board the former. Her [illegible] worked again, and gave entire satisfaction. The batteries of all these vessels are being made as formidable as circumstances will permit. The 46 tremendous pieces of ordnance for the Wabash are nearly fixed in their proper places.

A detachment of U. S. troops arrived in this City yesterday from Buffalo, and was immediately sent over to Governor's Island. Recruits from other rendezvous were also sent to Fort Columbus. At the different offices, yesterday, applicants presented themselves for enlistment in considerable force.

The statement published yesterday about the Varina proves to be an error. A card from Com. BARNES, in regard to it, will be found elsewhere. It is right to say we printed it in good faith.

FROM FORT PICKENS.

HOW THE REINFORCEMENT WAS ACCOMPLISHED.

The Mobile Mercury of April 15 makes this interesting statement:

"On Friday evening, a little after dark, signal guns were heard out at sea—six distinct reports—seeming to be some dozen or fifteen miles away. It was surmised at first that they were signals of distress, but soon it was concluded to have some connection with a reinforcement of Pickens. About 9 o'clock there was discovered to be an unusual stir about Fort Pickens, and unusual lights displayed. From various indications and circumstances, it was apparent that reinforcements were being landed and introduced into the fort. The guns heard out to sea were surmised, after that discovery, to be signals from the ships supposed to be on their way to Southern ports; but if any came in during the night, they were not observable, and no signs were seen of them Saturday morning.

During the day the Wyandotte had been cruising about the bay as usual. She went up to Pensacola, and was there about to take on board a person believed to be from Washington City. The citizens detained him and handed him over to Gen BRAGG. An examination elicited nothing to implicate him in any illicit undertaking, and he was released. He went over to Fort Pickens, and it is thought now that he may have carried the order to throw the men on the ships into the fort. The reinforcement is supposed to be the men who have been waiting on shipboard for that purpose for some weeks.

There is another supposition of the reason of the reinforcement at that particular time. They may have obtained at Pickens some hints of an intended visit of 500 picked men at about the hour of midnight.

There can be no doubt that an assault on Fort Pickens was ordered for that night, at about the hour of midnight. The assaulting party was composed of five hundred picked men, two hundred and fifty of whom were picked men from the Mississippi Ninth, to be led by C. W. HARRIS, of the Home Guards; fifty from the Tenth Mississippi, and the others from other troops at Pensacola. All necessary preparations were made for moving at about 11 o'clock. The storming party were led down to the Navy-yard, from whence it would probably have embarked in boats. There are some other particulars about the preparations, as given to us, which we think had as well not yet have the publicity of a newspaper circulation.

It is surmised that FORNEY was to be the leader. There was no doubt entertained of its success, and if all be true as stated to us, we think Port Pickens would have fallen that night, but for—what?

Fortune, or Chance, will have to bear the blame, and Delay, the real culpable party, will probably escape. Before the hour arrived, it was evident the fort had been reinforced, and all thought of the meditated assault was abandoned. The men picked for this special service lay on their arms all night at the Navy-yard without any protection from the chill air of the night, some of them not having so much as a blanket. They made no complaint.

Col FORNEY complimented them by saying they would do for anything. Not a cap was distributed to them—the business was to be done with cold steel.

There is no truth in the report that Gen. BRAGG had a position on Santa Rosa Island with 1,500 men.

The Wyandotte is positively notified to stay outside in the future.

The Cincinnati Commercial, of April 22, makes this statement: "On Saturday, a gentleman direct from Memphis by railroad, passed through the city, on his way to New-York. He left Memphis on Friday, and says he saw a private dispatch there, stating that on Thursday Lieut. SLEMMER, of Fort Pickens, had ordered the Confederate troops to stop throwing up batteries with which to bombard him.

They declined obedience, and he opened fire upon them, and in the course of the first day's firing three hundred of them were killed. The dispatch was not permitted to be published in Memphis. It will be remembered that we have not had a word by telegraph from Fort Pickens for some time, while it is known that Fort Pickens has been reinforced, and its commander directed to cause the building of sand batteries to cease. The chances are that there has been—and perhaps still is—a desperate struggle between Pickens and the hostile forts and batteries. The fact that we hear nothing of it from the South certainly does not indicate Southern success."

FORT PICKENS NO DOUBT REINFORCED.

NEW ORLEANS, Tuesday, April 23.

The steamer Hannah M. Johnson, leaving Pensacola yesterday morning, reports eight war vessels off the harbor. It is supposed they contain reinforcements for Fort Pickens.

AFFAIRS AT THE SOUTH.

MATTERS IN AND ABOUT WASHINGTON.

The navigation of the Potomac had not been obstructed in any way up to Monday evening last, and several vessels had passed in both directions. The commander at Fort Washington brought every vessel to, and examined into their character before allowing them to proceed. The Government steamer Anacostia came up on Monday night and reported all clear on the river.

The steamer George Gage—a ferry-boat plying usually between Washington and Alexandria—attempted to pass down on Sunday evening, it is said, with a secession battery, designed to be erected on the Virginia shore, at Indian Head—a point completely commanding the channel of the river. The report at Washington is that she was stopped and seized.

There is some apprehension felt lest, if the transport steamers go up to Washington with troops, obstructions may be placed in the channel, for the purpose of preventing their return seaward. It is probable that soon as the troops can be spared, steps will be taken to guard against the possibility of such a movement being made successful.

The four Potomac River mail steamers, Powhatan, Baltimore, Mount Vernon and Philadelphia, seized by the Government to prevent their being used for the transportation of secession troops, have been towed around to the Eastern Branch, and placed under the guns of the Navy-yard.

The Mount Vernon is being fitted up by the Government for the reception of an armament, probably for use upon the river.

Fort Washington has been put in complete repair. It was reinforced last week, and is in command of Major HASKINS, U. S. A. Guns have been mounted upon the summit of the walls, so as to command the hill on the east, which is as high as the fort, and which is only two or three hundred yards distant—a valley intervening. The fort is fourteen miles, only, below Washington, and nearly opposite Mount Vernon.

The volunteer troops in the Capitol are in good spirits, and spend much of their time in singing patriotic songs.

On Monday last over sixty clerks in the Departments refused to take the oath of allegiance to the Government required by the Secretaries, and resigned. Most of them were persons whose removal would have been certain, as soon as the Departments had time to attend to their cases.

Gen. KEIM left Washington on Saturday to take charge of the Pennsylvania rendezvous at Harrisburgh.

The Long Bridge over the Potomac is guarded nightly by a force of regulars, with cannon, to rake it if an invading force attempts to pass it.

Georgetown Heights are higher than any other point in the vicinity of Washington, and thoroughly command Arlington Heights.

Nearly all the officers at the Washington Navy-yard, except Capt. DAHLGREEN, had resigned—less, it is said, on account of secession sentiments than because of some misunderstanding as to the relative duties of the various officers.

The mails for the South now go from Washington by the Norfolk boats from Baltimore. The Department has arranged to send the Northern mails from Baltimore to Havre de Grace in wagons, and thence by rail. They will thus occupy about two days in getting through to New York.

The Government steamer Pocahontas arrived at Washington, on Monday night, with 120 marines and about 250 soldiers.

Among the recent resignations are those of Capt. WM. MCBLAIR, of the Navy; Lieut. J. W. BENNETT, of the National Observatory; Lieut. EDWARD L. WINDER, of ditto; Lieuts. JOHN BROOKE, WM. L. POWELL, HENRY A. LEWIS, CHAS. C. SIMMS, all of the Navy, and Col. JOHNSON, Quartermaster-General U. S. A.

Twenty-two midshipmen at the Annapolis Naval School have also resigned.

The interruption of communication between New-York and Washington has seriously embarrassed some of the Washington banks, which, having paid out all their specie for Northern checks and drafts, have no means of making exchange, and replenishing their coffers.

Flour at Washington has gone up from $12 50 to $20 per barrel. Government supplies the laboring classes from the stock seized at Georgetown at the rate of $7 50. Groceries of all descriptions have gone up 20 per cent., and in some cases still more, from the fear that the war will cut off supplies. Dealers will only sell such articles as flour and bacon to their regular customers, and these only in limited quantities.

Corn meal sells at $1 per bushel; hams from 16 to 20 cents per pound.

It is announced, on the authority of the Washington Star, that the Government has received a message from the Governor of Tennessee, in reply to the call for a quota of troops from that State. He emphatically says he will not comply, but would rather furnish fifty thousand men against the North.

The Baltimore papers announced that while H. W. HOFFMAN was on his way to that city, on Monday, to enter upon his duties as Collector of the Port, he, too, was intercepted at Harper's Ferry by the citizens of that place, who surrounded the car in which he was, and threatened to lynch him. The presence of his wife alone restrained them from carrying out their purpose. He was finally permitted to return to his home in Alleghany County, the car being locked to prevent his leaving it at any intermediate station.

REPORTS FROM NEW-ORLEANS.

NEW ORLEANS, Tuesday, April 23.

The Government has received information that 1,500 Tennesseans are on their way to join the Confederate Army.

The steamer Marquis de Habana has been purchased by the Southern Confederacy, and will soon be fitted out as a war steamer.

Gov. HOUSTON spoke at Galveston, Texas, on Friday last, and he emphatically denied as having communicated with the Lincoln Government. He also denied that he claimed still to be Governor of Texas, and said that he had retired to private life, and should never leave it only for the defence of the country.

NEW ORLEANS, Monday, April 22.

The Texas line of steamers has been suspended for the present.

Gen. HOUSTON, it is reported, is about to speak at Galveston, announcing his determination to oppose President LINCOLN's preparations for war.

Warlike preparations are progressing in Texas on a large scale.

The remaining Federal troops at Indianola will probably be taken prisoners.

Six hundred dollars of the Confederate loan has been taken by the colored people of Mobile.

EVERYTHING QUIET AT CHARLESTON.

The brig John H. Jones, Capt. MILLS, from Charleston in four days, with cotton to DOLLNER, POTTER & Co., arrived this morning. Capt. MILLS reports everything quiet at Charleston.

MOVEMENT OF TROOPS.

DEPARTURE OF THE ALBANY REGIMENT.

The Twenty fifth Albany Regiment yesterday forenoon marched from the Battery, where they had been encamped for the night, to the Armory, corner of White and Elm streets, and took dinner. They were warmly cheered as they marched through Broadway. After refreshing themselves, the Regiment was again formed, and marched to Pier No. 1, North River, where a steamtug was provided to take them on board of the Parkersburg, which was anchored in the stream. They were loudly cheered as they embarked, and the neighboring steamers and vessels gave the usual salutes. The Regiment numbers some 600 men, and are composed of the picked military of Albany. The vessel goes provided with light artillery and howitzers for protection against attack by sea or on land. This Regiment will reach Annapolis in forty-eight hours from New-York. The Chesapeake carried large quantities of supplies to Fort Monroe. She also went under convoy of the United States brig Perry.

MILITARY MOVEMENTS IN THE CITY.

THE OLD MEN'S HOME GUARD.

A meeting was held at Palace Garden, on Monday evening last, for the purpose of organizing a guard of men over 45 years for home defence. The following Committee was appointed to carry out the objects of the meeting: Major A. M. BININGER, Col. CHARLES B. TAPPEN, Col. BURR WAKEMAN, SAMUEL HOTALING, Esq., and Judge EDMONDS. Upwards of 300 names were enrolled on Monday evening, and the meeting adjourned to 7½ P. M. to-day, when further measures will be adopted for the organization of this "Old Men's Home Guard."

ANOTHER REGIMENT OF VOLUNTEERS ORGANIZED.

Brevet-Major GEO. B. HALL, who served with the New-York Volunteers during the Mexican war, has organized a regiment to serve during the present war in defence of the Stars and Stripes, to be called the Jackson Light Infantry. He has already enrolled upwards of 400 men, and expects to have his full complement within two days more. The head-quarters of the regiment are at NEARY'S, No. 113 Grand street, where those who wish to be enrolled are requested to call at any hour of the day or evening.

Experienced officers who have seen service in the field, are connected with this regiment.

FIRST REGIMENT, NATIONAL GAURD.

Col. ALLEN's command were received and mustered into the service on Tuesday. Yesterday they embarked for Quarantine, Staten Island, where they will remain, to be drilled and equipped. The Board of Commerce have subscribed $2,000, and THURLOW WEED $150 for this Regiment. Messrs. LILLIENTHAL have contributed 250 pounds of tobacco, and a number of ladies 1,000 flannel shirts and drawers.

COL. ELLSWORTH'S ZOUAVES.

This Regiment, 1,000 strong, marched into quarters at Fort Hamilton yesterday afternoon.

ADVANCE GUARD.

400 of Col. DURYEA's Zouaves went into quarters at Fort Schuyler yesterday. Before they leave for the seat of war they will be properly drilled and equipped. The remainder of the Regiment will follow to-day.

WILSON'S VOLUNTEERS.

2,200 men have enrolled themselves under Col. WILSON. All are ready and anxious to have a brush with the traitors.

SAPPERS AND MINERS.

Mr. JOHN MCLEOD MURPHY has opened an office for the recruiting of Sappers and Miners, at No. 600 Broadway.

NINTH REGIMENT.

Each company belonging to this Regiment has its full complement of men. They expect to start to-morrow for Washington.

THE SCANDINAVIAN COMPANY.

This Company, Capt. BALLING, attached itself yesterday morning to the First Regiment National Guard.

BRITISH VOLUNTEERS.

Offices for recruiting are opened daily at Nos. 17 Broadway and 109 Grand-street. Already upwards of 400 men have joined. To-night a meeting takes place at Hope Chapel.

SCOTT LIFE GUARD.

The First Regiment, Col. HUDSON, has its full complement of men, and is now quartered at the State Arsenal, Sixty-fifth-street. The whole of the Regiment will be uniformed in a day or two.

NATIONAL ZOUAVES.

Nearly a thousand men have already volunteered into this Regiment. To-day they will be inspected at the State Arsenal, corner of White and Elm streets. Donations of flannel shirts, drawers, &c., will be thankfully received.

THE HIGHLAND GUARD.

The officers of the Seventy-ninth Regiment have been actively employed the last few days in recruiting and drilling. Nearly 1,500 men are on the roll. Baltimore is expected to be sailed for on Monday.

CALIFORNIA VOLUNTEERS.

Six hundred and thirty have already volunteered for this Regiment, and the "Cry is still they come." E. D. BAKER, late of California, is the Colonel.

THE KNICKERBOCKER HOME GUARD.

A meeting was held at Mr. JOHN GARLAND's, No. 6 Centre-street, for the purpose of organizing a regiment to be known as the Home Guard. Col. STORMS and ISAAC TAYLOR, Esq., addressed the meeting, which is adjourned to Friday.

NEW-YORK ZOUAVES.

This Regiment, Col. HAWKINS, was accepted by the Governor last Monday. They are now quartered at Castle Garden.

FIELD OFFICERS FOR THE ELEVENTH REGIMENT.

An election for Field Officers of the Eleventh Regiment was held at the Division Armory last evening, Gen. JOHN EWEN presiding. The following named gentlemen were unanimously elected: JOACHIM WARDHOF, Colonel; EDWARD FERRERD, Lieutenant-Colonel; GEORGE A. RAYMOND, Major.

THOSE SECESSION UNIFORMS.

Yesterday afternoon the chief clerk of Police Commissioners inventoried and transferred to Quartermaster-Gen. ARTHUR, of the N. Y. S. M., all the military clothing and material seized by the Police of the City at No. 3 Dey-street, as it was about being shipped for the secession army. The uniforms will doubtless prove acceptable, as they can be appropriated towards the uniforming of our volunteers.

The goods seized were as follows: 769 coats and 266 pair pants, and cloth already cut ready for making, for 130 coats and 55 pair pants. The material is a fine mixed satinett. The uniforms were trimmed with red cord. One lot of this cord was also seized.

POLICE COMMISSIONERS.

At a meeting of the Board of Police Commissioners, yesterday, Sergeant MORTON, of the Fifth Precinct, Brooklyn, Drill Sergeant WAUGH and Patrolmen JOHNSON and SATTONVILLE, of Brooklyn, resigned to go to the seat of war. The following appointments were made: THOS. P. STEPHENSON, Fourth Precinct, New-York; WM. H. MORTON, JOHN REA, WM. V. LANE, Fifth Precinct, Brooklyn.

ANOTHER REGIMENT.

Col. GOFF is now forming a new regiment to be called the Lincoln Guards. It is his intention to offer his command to do duty at the White House.

TIMELY LECTURES.

At the request of the Faculty of the Bellevue Hospital Medical College, Dr. T. H. HAMILTON will commence a course of lectures on Military Surgery on Thursday, at 12 M. The course will be free to all who may desire to attend.

THE FIFTH REGIMENT ENCAMPMENT.

The Fifth took up its quarters at the Battery last evening. Men were busy all day in putting up tents for them, provisioning their Commissariat Department and otherwise attending to their military necessities and comforts. Each tent has a plank flooring, raised about three inches from the ground, and is furnished with straw pallets and stools, and other utensils for the accommodation of several men. Unfortunately, it rained last night, and the Battery was ventilated by a pretty stiff salt breeze from the Bay; but the Fifth seemed quite content, if not positively jolly.

MASS MEETING AT YORKVILLE.

The Union men of Yorkville and vicinity will hold a mass meeting, for the purpose of organizing a Home Guard, at the corner of Eighty-sixth street and Fourth avenue, to-night, under the auspices of the Irving Literary Association. FERNANDO WOOD, CHAUNCEY SHAFFER, Alderman DAYTON and Judge THOMPSON are among the speakers.

DRILL ROOMS.

Gen. J. WATTS DE PEYSTER offers to the military authorities the large rooms on the second story of the new brick building at the Southwest Armory, Thirty-seventh-street and Broadway, rent free. They are well adapted for drill rooms.

THE BARRACKS IN THE PARK.

The erection of these buildings is going on with marvelous rapidity. The appearance of the Park is completely transformed. To-day the roof on the Broadway front will be finished and the cooking apparatus set in operation. The buildings fronting Park Row will be ready to-morrow morning. Tents have already sprung up in the vicinity, and the Park, below the City Hall, will shortly present the appearance of a military encampment.

THE FEELING IN BROOKLYN.

Rev. HENRY J. VAN DYKE, in a card to the public, unites with his fellow-citizens in allegiance to the United States Government, and the earnest prayer that God will soon bless the country with an honorable and permanent peace.

The Stars and Stripes float from Mr. VAN DYKE's Church.

THE MILITARY.

The Twenty-eighth Regiment did not leave yesterday, as was expected, as they were not fully equipped. They are quartered at the State Arsenal on Portland-avenue, and it is not definitely known now when they will get away.

The Fourteenth Regiment, Col. WOOD, it is understood, will leave on Saturday next. The Seventy-second Regiment are getting ready so as to be able to march at one hour's notice.

A meeting was held in City Hall Park, Tuesday night, to organize an Irish Brigade. Not less than 5,000 people were present, and great enthusiasm prevailed. Mayor POWELL occupied the chair, and addresses were made by Dr. J. H. COLGAN, Capt. HOGAN, and others. More than 400 persons signed the roll. The headquarters of the Brigade are at the Emerald Cottage, on Joralemon-street.

A company of Light Infantry Volunteers is being organized by JOHN DUNN, a veteran who served in the Crimean War.

CARE OF THE WOUNDED—MOVEMENTS OF THE LADIES.

The ladies are preparing vigorously and in good season for the care of the wounded in the coming war. The Committee appointed on Monday at Mr. RAYMOND's residence, met yesterday at the Chapel of Dr. POTTS' Church. Mr. WILLARD PARKER, the President, explained to the very large number of ladies present, the manner in which the Association proposed to labor for the accomplishment of its object, viz.: the preparation of lint, bandages, wrappers and other articles which will be needed by the wounded. A room in the Society Library has been offered for their use. At this room cotton and linen-cloth and other material will be given out to ladies who may desire to work in this cause. Some one will be present to explain the manner of making the articles needed, and when made they will be returned to this room, properly packed in boxes and placed at the disposal of the surgical and hospital authorities. The room at the Society Library will be ready to-day.

Mr. KLEMM, of Twenty-ninth-street, was appointed Assistant Secretary, and will be in attendance at the rooms. Additional contributions of money were received.

All donations for this Association may be sent to H. J. RAYMOND, the Treasurer, TIMES Office.

The New-York Ladies' Relief Union meet every afternoon, from 2 to 6 o'clock, in the Church of the Puritans, on Union square, for the purpose of preparing garments, &c. Contributions of all kinds are solicited, and may be left at the Church in care of the sexton. Money may be sent to Mrs. J. W. HALSTED, No. 217 West Eighteenth-street, or to Mrs. JULIA REED DAVIS, No. 18 East Twenty-eighth-street.

A meeting of ladies is to be held at the Woman's Library rooms, in the University, this evening, to make arrangements for sending nurses, as well as garments, bandages and other necessaries of hospital and camp life. Contributions may be sent to the Library to the care of Miss E. M. POWELL.

The ladies in various parts of the City are organizing local associations for the purpose of prosecuting this work. A resolution was passed at the meeting in Dr. POTTS' Church, recommending the several associations to appoint each one delegate to a Central Committee, which shall act in concert with the association of surgeons already organized.

ARRESTS FOR TREASON.

DANIEL FISH, gunmaker, No. 66 Fulton-street, was arrested by the police yesterday, and to-day handed over to the custody of the United States Marshal on a charge of treason, and misprision of treason, in having sent off large quantities of arms for the use of the Southern traitors. The correspondence and bills of lading found in his possession abundantly sustain the charge. A man, calling himself Dr. SABO, was also arrested, and is now in the hands of the United States authorities for recruiting men for the Southern Navy. The papers which he used for the purpose were headed "United States of America," and purported to be authorized by the United States Collector and Naval Officer of Charleston. As there are no such officers at that port acting in behalf of the United States of America, it is evident that the intention was to enlist men under a false pretence, and, after getting them to Charleston, impress them into the service of the C. S. A.

AN EXAMPLE WORTH FOLLOWING.

Messrs. HOTCHKISS & SONS, of Sharon, Connecticut, have offered the Governor of their State a bronze rifled cannon, (16 pounder,) and all of their patent projectiles which can be fired from it during the war. Gov. BUCKINGHAM has accepted the gift. They have also offered to produce additional rifled cannon and projectiles at cost.

THE DESTRUCTION OF HARPER'S FERRY.

OFFICIAL REPORT OF LIEUT. JONES.

Lieut. JONES has sent a copy of his official report to a friend in this City, accompanied by a private note from which the following is an extract:

CARLISLE BARRACKS, Penn., April 20, 1861.

The people here were almost mad with joy at my baffling the rebels, as they call them, and want to make me a Colonel, but I have for obvious reasons no intention of accepting their offer. I lost everything except what was on me. The march jaded me, but is over now, except my feet are still sore.

Yours, R. JONES.

OFFICIAL REPORT.

CARLISLE BARRACKS, Penn., April 20, 1861.

The Assistant Adjutant-General, Head-quarters Army, Washington, D. C.:

SIR: Immediately after finishing my dispatch of the night of the 18th inst., I received positive and reliable information that 2,500 or 3,000 State troops would reach Harper's Ferry in two hours, from Winchester, and that the troops from Halltown, increased to 300, were advancing, and even at that time—a few minutes after 10 o'clock—within 20 minutes' march of the Ferry. Under these circumstances, I decided the time had arrived to carry out my determination, as expressed in the dispatch above referred to, and accordingly gave the order to apply the torch. In three minutes, or less, both of the Arsenal buildings, containing nearly 15,000 stand of arms, together with the carpenters' shop, which was at the upper end of a long and connected series of workshops of the Armory proper, were in a complete blaze.

There is every reason for believing the destruction was complete.

After firing the buildings, I withdrew my command, marching all night, and arrived here at 2½ P. M. yesterday, where I shall await orders.

Four men were missing on leaving the Armory, and two deserted during the night.

I am, Sir, very respectfully, your obedient servant,
R. JONES, First-Lieut. R. M. Rifles,
Commanding Dept. Rect.

ALBANY, Wednesday, April 24.

The Seventy-ninth (Scotch) Regiment, Col. MACLEAY, of New-York, have orders this morning, for immediate service.

Twenty new companies have been entered as inspected, this morning, making 134 companies now enrolled.

OGDENSBURGH, Wednesday, April 24.

The First Company of the Ogdensburgh Volunteers, 80 men strong, left for Albany at noon to-day. A salute was fired and a large crowd gathered at the depot as the train started.

POUGHKEEPSIE, Tuesday, April 23.

A large Union meeting was held here to-day. Among the speakers was Hon. WM. KELLY, late Democratic candidate for Governor. Strong resolutions were passed, sustaining the Government and authorizing the Common Council to borrow $10,000 for volunteers and their families. All who were present took the oath to support the Constitution.

GENEVA, Tuesday, April 23.

Geneva is in arms. One company of volunteers has already been formed, and several others are forming. A large and enthusiastic meeting was held here last night, and was addressed by Judge FOLGER and others. $6,000 was subscribed and guaranteed for the families of volunteers.

ADAMS, Tuesday, April 23.

A Union mass meeting, numbering over 2,000 persons, assembled here last evening. Many patriotic speeches were made, and the utmost enthusiasm prevailed. Volunteer companies are rapidly forming throughout the country.

ALBION, Tuesday, April 21.

A great meeting of the citizens of Orleans County is now being held in the Court House Park, and addressed by Gov. SELDEN, Gov. CHURCH, and others.

Nearly $30,000 has already been subscribed for the families of volunteers, and more is coming.

Three companies have organized, and more are forming.

Orleans will do her part.

WHAT NEW-JERSEY IS DOING.

An enthusiastic meeting was held in Bloomfield, N. J., on Tuesday evening last, to endeavor to fill up a company for the contingent which the State is required to furnish, and to raise money to provide for the families of those who volunteered. Addresses were made by Rev. Mr. NEWLIN, pastor of the Presbyterian Church, by Rev. GEO. DUFFIELD, of Philadelphia, Col. HENRY J. MILLS, and by Mr. AMZI DODD. The latter, as Chairman of the Committee appointed for that purpose, reported a series of exceedingly comprehensive resolutions, which were adopted unanimously. Within fifteen minutes after the adjournment of the meeting $1,000 were subscribed toward the volunteer fund, and pledges were given for the payment of any amount which might be called for. Quite a number enrolled their names as volunteers.

NEWARK, N. J., Wednesday, April 24.

THEODORE RUNYON, of Essex, has been appointed Commander of the New-Jersey forces. He will send one regiment to Trenton, thence to Washington, at once. The second regiment is nearly full, and recruiting rapidly. The excitement is great. New-Jersey will send 10 000 if called on.

WHAT MISSOURI IS DOING.

ST. LOUIS, Tuesday, April 23.

The Democrat of this morning says that Gen. HARNEY has received his necessary orders, and yesterday about 760 men were enlisted under the President's proclamation, received by and placed under the command of the officers of the United States Arsenal in this city.

It is understood that about 1,500 men have tendered their services, and will be accepted.

About 1,500 troops are now in the arsenal.

ST. LOUIS, Monday, April 22.

Gov. JACKSON has called an extra session of the Legislature, to meet Thursday, May 2, for the purpose of enacting such laws and adopting such measures as may be necessary for the more perfect organization and equipment of the militia of this State, and raise money, and such other means as may be required to place the State in a proper attitude of defence.

Adj.-Gen. HOUGH has issued orders to the commanding officers to assemble their respective commands on the 3d of May, and go to encampment for six days, as provided by law. The strength, organization and equipments of the several commands are to be reported at once to head-quarters, and the division inspectors are required to give all information respecting the condition of the State forces.

ST. LOUIS, Tuesday, April 23.

Lieut. E. MERCHANT and Surgeon BREWER, of the United States Army, have resigned.

Gen. HARNEY left for Washington to night.
